A New Challenge for Longwood Alumnae

The cover of this magazine says graphically that Longwood has entered upon a period of dramatic growth and development. Already more than 1600 students are enrolled at the College and projections call for further increases until the number reaches as many as 2400 by 1972. Such growth is inevitable because the Commonwealth has directed Longwood to accept increasing numbers of qualified young women who seek to attend the College.

Institutional growth can be a constructive development if it promises academic excellence for more students. As Longwood grows in size we hope that ways may be found to match increasing enrollments with proportionate increases in the quality of education. Especially do we hope that the College can maintain the traditional values and cherished spirit that mean so much to all of us.

What are the implications for Longwood alumnae in this era of larger enrollments? What is the role for our alumnae to play in this time of change? President James H. Newman has indicated that our vigorous support is needed to help Longwood face the future. He hopes that we can contribute so effectively that Longwood will emerge from this critical period with excellence to match its larger dimensions.

Out of our long history of alumnae activity come stirring precedents of meeting major challenges. At what more appropriate time could we respond to another challenge than now—on the eve of the 80th birthday of our Association, founded in 1887 by seven alumnae devoted to Alma Mater and dedicated to the cause of higher education.

Our response to President Newman must be that we do accept this new challenge and wish to cooperate with the Administration and Faculty in accomplishing the ambitious objectives set for Longwood.

You may wonder in what special way you can be a daughter true to Alma Mater. The answer lies in the heart of each alumna.

Tradition · Excellence · Challenge

Alumnae the world over, be they of large or small institutions, cherish most and remember longest the traditions of their own particular college. These traditions may be events, places, or people.

When Longwood was small, Dr. Jarman's talks around the fireplace became a tradition that one still hears fondly talked about when Founders Day rolls around. Lanterns glimmering along High Street as their bearers carefully shield them from the breeze and carry them triumphantly into the Rotunda, up the stairs, and around the balcony—all this means a special Commencement time to countless hundreds as the ceremony is repeated year after year. An inimitable lecture by Dr. Simkins, a spontaneous outburst of song to Charlie Hop, stir memories for many college generations.

Longwood is rich in traditions. Each year the freshmen learn them eagerly; the seniors leave them nostalgically. They are a very dear and a very vital part of the actual life-blood of the college.

Longwood is also rich in excellence. You who read this magazine have achieved your successes in life thus far partly because of the standards of excellence your Alma Mater sought to uphold and to inspire you to attain. Those who set the path which Longwood follows and teach her students have always aimed at excellence during all the long years of the college's history. That the aim is not always achieved is due to the frailty of human nature but not to the goal.

As all of you remember from your English Literature course: "Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a Heaven for!" John Gardner in his book entitled "Excellence" gives a succinct definition of that quality which has always been Longwood's aim to emulate and to instill: "Excellence implies a striving for the highest standards in every phase of life."

To live up to such an aim is a challenge to both the institution and the individual, particularly in an era when size seems to be an all too important criterion of quality whether in stereo and TV sets or church congregations.

Longwood, like many small colleges, must expand to meet growing needs. This is an exciting demand, for the challenge lies in planning for growth while maintaining the excellence of the past. Great care and forethought are going into these plans as they have always gone into the planning of the past. You need not fear that the Longwood student will become a mere number on an IBM card, nor that the campus will develop into a scramble of modernistic buildings. That spirit of warm friendliness which is the hallmark of Longwood is going to prevail in spite of larger numbers of students and faculty. It is going to prevail in large part because students, faculty, and alumnae want it to and strive mightily to meet the challenge of keeping and fostering those traditions and that excellence which all so deeply cherish.

Joan of Arc.

TRADITION: Joan of Arc

“Joan of Arc in our Alma Mater’s Hall is listening. She is in repose physically, yet her eyes are seeing visions, her ears are hearing voices, and her whole soul feels a command from a greater Power. Thoughtful, even in her dreaming, she contemplates the future. In reverence, she seeks an inspiration in God. Carefully she plans for the action of a future time, when she shall lead her country and her people to a victorious day. For years, this Joan of Arc has been dreaming, hoping, planning, building.

“Here she shall stand throughout all time, years and years may pass. Nature in her wildest moments may beat about the material composition of the statue. But the real Joan of Arc, the spirit we love so well, will remain. Each year as time goes by, new eyes will eagerly search for the truth embodied therein; new faces will reflect the glory of the resplendent figure; the boundless faith of Joan of Arc will permeate the lives of thousands of students who will pass daily; hearts will thrill anew, sensing the vision of the ideal.”

It was in April 1927, nearly 40 years ago, that The Rotunda recorded the “Significance of Joan” in tribute to the unveiling of the equestrian statue presented to the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho and State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia by Anna Hyatt Huntington and Archer Milton Huntington.

From generation to generation, and from the Rotunda* to the Colonnade the prominent position of

Lives in humility and prayer.
Who in the universal crush of ambition
Covets neither profit nor honor.

the symbolic spirit of Joan of Arc continues to grow in our college. It serves as an ideal and an inspiration to every student and alumnae as they assume roles of leadership in our world.

It is with gratitude to those who have passed before and with the hope of accomplished challenge that the tradition of Joan of Arc remains significant.

Founders Day

March 19 was a special kind of Founders Day. Our 1966 “homecoming” hit a new high in attendance and enthusiasm as more than 500 alumnae, faculty members, retired faculty, and friends of Longwood gathered on the campus to celebrate the anniversary of 75 consecutive annual meetings of alumnae since 1891. Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster was on hand to help make the occasion a memorable one.

Those who joined in the anniversary celebration were rewarded with a stimulating morning program, colorful luncheon session, fun and fellowship, and lots of "catch-up" chatter sandwiched in between rounds of shop talk. Tying it all together was the special theme, "Tradition—Excellence—Challenge."

Following coffee at the Alumnae House, the day's first session got under way in Jarman Auditorium with Dr. James H. Newman presiding over his first Founders Day program since coming to the College as president in September of 1965. The program featured thoughtful comments by a panel of five Longwood alumnae who had been honored a short time before by having been selected for the first edition of Outstanding Young Women of America, a national "who's who" publication.

After the formal session in Jarman the audience adjourned to the Rotunda where they enjoyed a near-capacity luncheon meeting presided over by Mrs. Helen Smith Crumpler, President of the National Alumnae Association. Featured on the luncheon agenda were recognition of reunion classes, committee reports, executive secretary's report, introduction of former national presidents, and an eloquent tribute to past alumnae accomplishments by Mrs. Caroline Eason Roberts, immediate past president of the Association.

First spokesman for the morning panel was Elizabeth McLean Howard Hutchison, of Arlington, Va., a 1964 graduate in Music, who supplemented her talk on "What's New in Music" with an organ demonstration. Jo Savage Orser, a 1962 B.S. in Elementary Education graduate who recently served in the Peace Corps, stated that Longwood has an obligation to prepare her graduates to meet the multitude of constantly changing problems that one faces in teaching and in other aspects of life.

Suzanne Prillaman Lowry described new developments in textiles. Now teaching at Syracuse University, Suzanne entered Longwood from Howertons and is a 1956 graduate in Home Economics. Barbara L. Bishop, a 1960 art major who returned to Longwood last fall as an instructor, stated in provocative terms that life is always in crisis and that civilized man is rushing headlong into a world of increasing mechanization, where the idea of change and the change of ideas are issues of equal importance to the individualist and to the conformist.

Helen Page Warriner reaffirmed her faith in man and in his ability to bring order out of chaos. "In spite of the complexities of society today, man's creative spirit is as insuppressible as it has always been. We have more of everything at our disposal today than any previous generation ever had, and it is up to us to make the most of these resources," she charged her audience. Helen, a 1956 graduate, is State Supervisor of Foreign Languages in Virginia.

The active participation of recent alumnae and current students in our anniversary Founders Day was a timely reminder of what the annual event is all about—that is, an alumnae effort to strengthen and perpetuate values dear to the hearts of all former students. The Association spoke cherished sentiments in the words featured at its 75th anniversary: "Tradition—Excellence—Challenge."

EXCELLENCE:History

September of 1926 was fairly early in the history of Farmville S. T. C., and even more so for a young historian just out of graduate school who joined Farmville's history faculty that fall. To him the Department of History and Social Sciences was mainly young and pretty girls.

The department was definitely young and immature—that year a high school text was still being used for a college quarter course in American Government! Its goals, however, were high and soaring. Virginia's high schools needed well prepared teachers of history and the social studies, and the department was determined to meet that need.

Even so the century and Farmville was young and only on the make. It is on record that one somewhat elderly prospective teacher told President Jarman that she "wasn't going to be taught by an educated young fool." The effort could be made and history teachers for the mid-century were being produced.

A score of years later that no longer young historian had a second look at the History and Social Science Department of Farmville S. T. C. became Longwood College. A middle life perspective discovered a somewhat different picture. Teacher training was still the main job, and the students were still beautiful. Life, however, was more serious.

Agreement had now been reached that the department had a major responsibility to the entire student body in terms of its general education. Now all students must come to it for two year courses of basic preparation for life. One of those courses must be American history, the other could be world civilizations or geography. Thus the major part of the energies of the departmental members was devoted to these fields.

The variety of majors the department was now offering had increased considerably. There was the straight history major, or the broader one of social sciences, including history. In addition a student could major in geography or sociology. More importantly, the department was increasing its course offerings in these fields to give broader preparation for high school teachers.

Charles F. Lane—Chairman, History and Social Science Dept.—Professor in Geography; Kathleen G. Cover—Associate Professor in Sociology; Frederick C. Mortimer—Instructor in Geography and C. G. Gordon Moss—Professor in History.

In such ways the department was trying to meet the challenges of one mid-century. It had reached middle life and was awake to the awesome responsibilities of America as she emerged into world leadership.

In 1966 that once young historian, who forty years earlier had come to litical scientists and economists. Its scope has widened, its purposes have deepened. The old verities remain, however. Still its basic purpose is to awaken the minds of students to life in all its limitless wideness and to train those minds to search in all tolerance for truth and justice in its purest essence. Professionally the department still struggles

Sneller—Professor in History; Elizabeth W. Etheridge—Assistant Professor in History; Richard T. Couture—Assistant Professor in History; L. Marshall Hall, Jr.—Assistant Professor in History; Joseph M. Scolnick, Jr.—Instructor in Political Science; Earl A. Rubley—Assistant Professor in Geography; Robert F. Stauffer—Instructor in Economics.

Farmville S. T. C., now old, and it is to be hoped a little wiser, attempts a new perspective of Farmville's Longwood and its Department of History and the Social Sciences.

The college has grown in numbers, the department's faculty has more than doubled. Now, in addition to historians, geographers and sociologists, it includes po-to produce teachers for the state's schools who will prepare Virginians to lead America into the new world.

And Longwood girls remain just as pretty, just as inspiring, just as wonderful as they appeared to youth in the twenties.

A Tribute:

The death of Dr. Francis Butler Simkins last February removed from our community a scholar, teacher, writer, friend, whose unique personal attributes will long keep his memory green among us.

A native of South Carolina, educated in that state's university and at Columbia University, Dr. Simkins taught at the Citadel, the University of North Carolina, and Emory University before coming to Farmville. He served Longwood College for some thirty years, with brief sojourns on such campuses as Louisiana State University and Princeton. He was much in demand as a guest lecturer and he was the author of a number of books and innumerable articles in professional magazines. In recognition for his scholarship, Dr. Simkins was awarded the Dunning prize award of the American Historical Association in 1932, a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1952, and elected to the presidency of the Southern Historical Society in 1953. His favorite thesis was that the South's past must be accepted in the light of the standards and customs of the times rather than judged by the criteria of today. He deplored any movement which tended to iron out provincial differences and make each locality like every other. He himself was never a follower, but invariably an individualist, often preferring to take opposite sides in an argument.

The tributes to this man have been many, of which the following are brief samples:

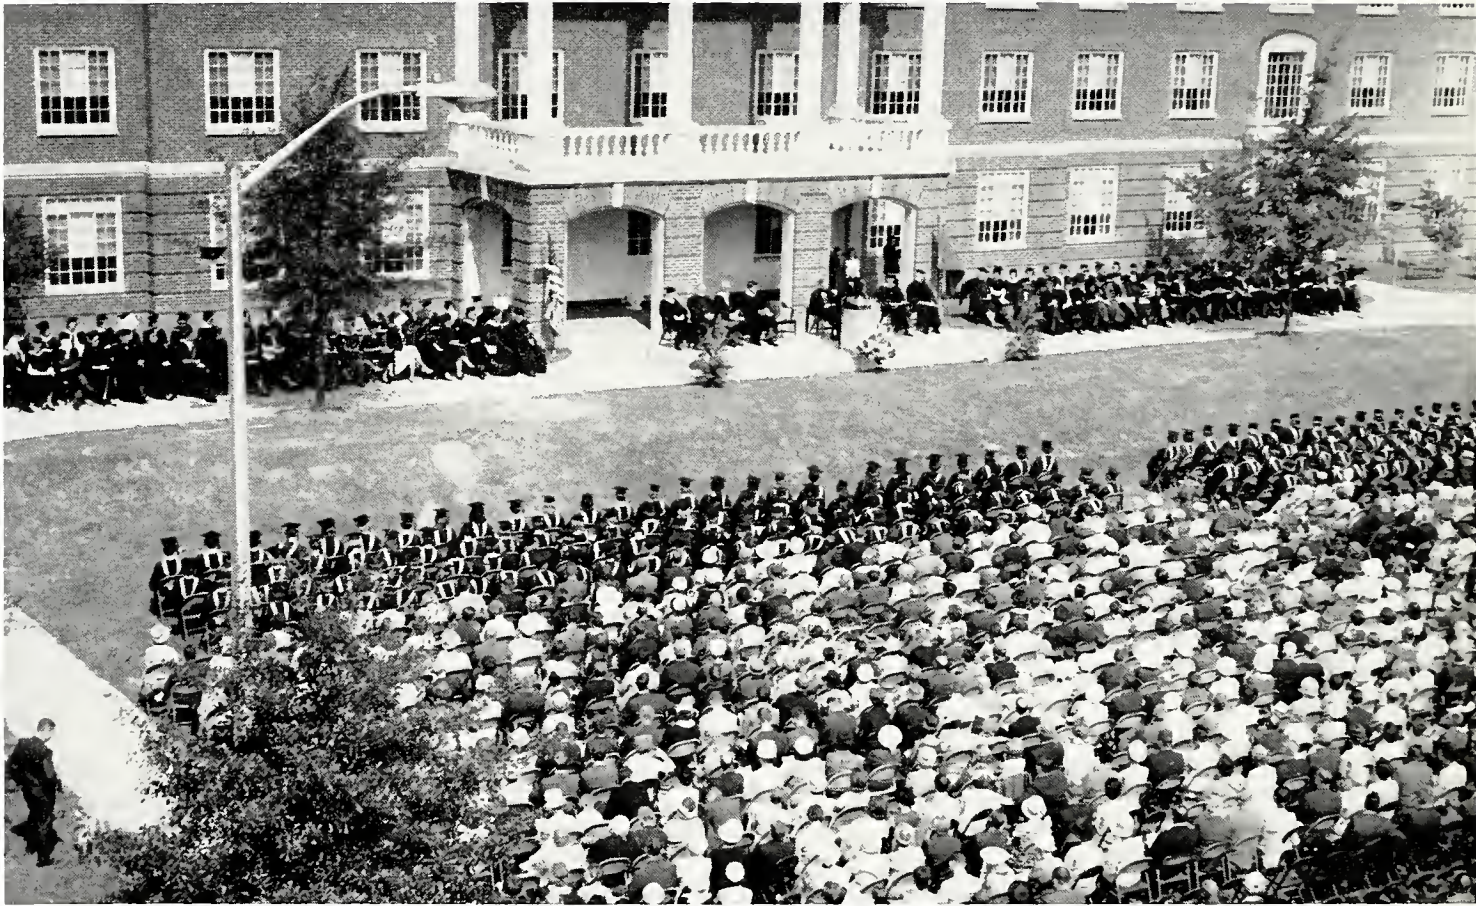

In his native town, the Edgefield Advertiser acclaimed him as a great Southerner in whose death "there is revealed a loss to a region of the country needing more than ever able interpreters".

Dr. Hampton Jarrell, professor at Winthrop College and a Southern author, said of Dr. Simkins: "He did what the South so badly needed, he wrote scholarly works giving the true facts of Southern history." Dr. Mary Elizabeth Massey, another Winthrop historian and his personal friend, said of him: "I use his text book in my Southern History course. I tell my students that first of all he was a scholar. He was not afraid to say what he thought. He was a very loveable character. He showed this in his willingness to help and encourage young people who loved history and wanted to become historians."

That this encouragement was appreciated by those students fortunate enough to have sat in his classes in the heyday of his mental and physical vigor is testified to by a poignant tribute expressed by a Longwood alumna, Frances Collie Milton Garnjost, who, writing with "a great sense of personal loss", says: "There will be erudite tributes to Dr. Simkins by eminent men in his field, for he achieved there a high place. How, then, does a student of the Master say simply, 'I loved the man'?----This is what he could do for a student: he could and did demonstrate by example the dignity of one's own opinion if that opinion had been reinforced by study in depth. . . . In a very large measure I owe to this man the sustained courage necessary for exploring an intellectual world which I could never have otherwise entered. And, typically, he would be the most surprised of all to know this."

Challenge: The Future

The Mall and a perfect June day formed the setting for Longwood's first outdoor commencement on June 5. 272 degrees were conferred on the graduates by Dr. James H. Newman, College President.

Former Governor Albertis S. Harrison, Jr. told the graduates, "We assemble here today to formalize an event which is largely an accomplished fact. You have already complied with all the requirements of the Commonwealth of Virginia and Longwood College to entitle you to your degree. But we confer it with appropriate pomp and ceremony in order that there may be no mistake about the importance we attach to the occasion and to your accomplishment."

He further asserted that: "... We expect the graduates of Virginia's centers of higher learning to be a continuing and developing force. . . . Historically this college leads the State in the number of its graduates that enter the field of education.

"... The essence of excellence in education stems from a faculty to whom the training of young minds is a calling that demands every ounce of their energy and ability. It grows from teachers, instructors and professors who have caught the spirit of their mission and who feel a deep responsibility towards the students committed to their charge.

“It gains strength from a student body that has come to learn, that exhibits a burning desire to know, and to develop the inquisitive minds and habits of study and self-discipline that always mark the educated man or woman.

“ . . . Among the titles that we might confer upon this age is that of the Educated Age.

“ . . . We have asked education to provide the technical skills we know will be needed, and to provide a scope of scientific knowledge ranging from the nucleus of the atom to the farthest reaches of the universe.

“From education in the arts, in literature, in philosophy, we ask an understanding of science, in order that we may keep our moral and our ethical and our spiritual balance in a world of constant and increasing material change.

“Finally we charge education with the safekeeping of our heritage and the perpetuation of our traditions, in the perspective of history.”

President's Message

To The Alumnae of Longwood College: Will It Always Be This Way?

In an accurate appraisal of any college, consideration must be given to its past, its present, and its future. As you alumnae think of Longwood College, what does it mean to you? What did it do for you and what have you done for it? What does it mean to the State of Virginia?

All of us know Longwood's great traditions of excellent standards of instruction and of its splendid preparation of good teachers. We know of its fine spirit and of its contagious enthusiasms. Personally, you have happy associations and happy memories of the time you spent here. You are proud to be identified with a greatly respected institution.

At the present time, Longwood has increased its enrollment and is expanding its physical plant and facilities. It is no longer a single purpose to help meet the needs in many areas of today's economy and society. These are tangible evidences of great growth. The quality of its students continues to be high. Its faculty is still committed to good teaching. A higher percentage of its graduates become teachers in the schools of Virginia than of any other state college.

What I have said sounds good. Will it always be this way? As we know, knowledge is increasing at an unbelievable rate. This fact means greater and greater demands on our faculty in giving the students necessary preparation for their chosen careers. The fierce competition for college faculty and staff is literally nationwide.

To be complacent and to think that Longwood will keep on as it always has will be disastrous. Longwood will have to work hard to maintain its earned reputation. Longwood must work even harder to improve its position. Of course, there must be adequate state support and this support cannot simply be taken for granted. Even with adequate state support, there must be unprecedented support from Longwood alumnae if Longwood is to continue to be a superior institution. May your alma mater never be associated with mediocrity. Longwood must always be a first-rate college. This is truly the challenge and the alumnae of Longwood College must lead the way in meeting it.

James H. Newman
President

College Commentary:

Shelley's line, "Nothing is changeless but change", seems more pertinent, perhaps, for the twentieth century than for the nineteenth. A college campus, though often regarded as a little world to itself, is not immuned from the innovations demanded by our contemporary society, as evidenced in the expanded facilities, enlarged enrollments, changing curricula, and faculty turnover.

Expansion

Reflecting the enrollment pressure placed upon all state-supported institutions of higher learning, Longwood College must strive to admit larger numbers of high school graduates, build additional dormitories, laboratories, recreational facilities, employ a larger staff. For example, in the fall of 1964 the college accepted 469 new students out of 1548 applications; the 1966-67 session opened with 650 new students raising the total enrollment from 1450 to 1627. That the administration has a long-view project for expansion is illustrated by the copy of the blue print which comprises our magazine cover. It is interesting to note that the new plan will eventually correct one of the outstanding liabilities of the school in that it will provide a "campus" in the original sense of the word - "open space of field" - with room for landscaping or gardens as well as hockey fields and tennis courts.

Faculty

The past year has brought many staff changes. The death of Dr. Francis Simkins removed a well known scholar and historian - one who, because of his active role in the Southern Historical Association, made other scholars aware of Longwood College (See tribute on p. 11).

The retirement of Miss Olive Iler in June reminds us of the large number of physical education majors in the state who recognize their indebtedness to her. The arrival of 70 of these girls on campus to celebrate her birthday last winter was a most unusual tribute.

Also retiring in June was Mrs. Alice Mottley Overton, who for a number of years was head resident of North Cummingham. We hope for her and Miss Iler many pleasant hours of leisure and usefulness.

Any college has resignations as well as retirements, and in an era of faculty shortages and competitive bidding for staff, professors are less apt to remain in one institution for several decades as was formerly the case. It has not been the policy of this magazine to list resignations; space does not permit mention of all of the faculty recently leaving the campus, but this writer would like to pay tribute to several who, because of their many years of dedicated service have endeared themselves to large numbers of students and alumnae.

The resignation of Dr. R. S. Simonini, since 1951 chairman of the English department, leaves the college and the state poorer for his loss. His leadership in improving the preparation of high school English teachers, in working through the Virginia Association of Teachers of English to secure higher standards for certification and a more reasonable work load for the English instructor, and to modernize the techniques of classroom instruction made him one of the most respected college English professors in the state. A scholar, an efficient administrator, a man of ideas and tremendous energy, Dr. Simonini is greatly missed on campus. He has joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky.

Also resigning (to teach in the Norfolk Division of Virginia Union College) were Dr. Marvin Schlegel and Dr. Dorothy Schlegel. Students will miss their scholastic talents, their concern and interest in the individual student, their participation in student extra-curricular interests, their hospitality at their home. The Schlegels have bought a house at Virginia Beach.

Mr. Jacob H. Wamsley and F. Edgar Thomas, Jr. discussed Longwood's future plans with Elise Turner Franklin, a national director on the Alumnae Board.

Dr. David Wiley resigned last February to teach and continue work on his doctorate at the University of Indiana. His many years of directing The Longwood Players did much to continue on campus the tradition of fine drama established by Miss Leola Wheeler. Both he and Mrs. Wiley had been members of the staff.

Moving to Atlanta in October, our able business manager, Mr. Jake Wamsley, will serve as Associate Director for Business Affairs with the state board of regents which directs a 24 institution university system in the state of Georgia. Both the town and college will miss his efficient leadership and willing services.

Among the thirty-three new professors and instructors who joined the staff this fall are three Longwood alumnae, Miss Nancy Andrews, with a M.S. degree from the University of Tennessee, will be Assistant Professor of Health and Physical Education; Miss Emilie Holladay, with a M.A. degree from Teacher's College, Columbia University, will be Assistant Professor of Mathematics; Mrs. Betty Jo Whitaker Simmons, with both B.A. and M.A. degrees from Longwood, will be Instructor in Education. New this year will be Dr. Shirley May O'Neil, Professor of Physical Education and department chairman; she received her doctorate from the Univ. of Mich., where she has been a member of the faculty for the past eight years.

Summer School

Longwood summer school enrollment broke all previous records, with 542 students for the first six weeks and 391 for the second. Added to this were the forty teachers - in - service enrolled for six weeks in a Remedial Reading Institute. Under the directorship of Dr. Rose Spicola of the Department of Education and financed by a federal grant under the National Defense Education Act, the institute was designed to update and improve the reading level programs in a twenty-one county area of south-central Virginia

Institute of Southern Culture

The Institute of Southern Culture, sponsored by the Alumnae Association for the first six years, continued its campus lectures, with Dr. Francis Simkins - one of its founders - leading off in October with an address: "The Thing Hotter Than Fire: Reconstruction." Dr. Thomas Fitzpatrick, dean of the Architecture School of the University of Virginia in February spoke on "The Changing Profile of Southern Cities." In March Dr. Rubert P. Vance, professor of Sociology at the University of North Carolina spoke on "Urbanization of the South", and Dr. Raven McDavid, Professor of Linguistics at the University of Chicago on "Speech Patterns of the South". Dr. Donald Davidson, agrarian poet, professor emeritus of English at Vanderbilt University closed the series in April with his lecture "The Center That Holds: Old Time Religion and Southern Literature". The committee directing the Institute regrets that funds have not been available in recent years to publish the annual lectures. The six publications have been sold to libraries in nearly every state as well as in foreign countries, according to Miss Bedford, chairman of the committee of the Institute of Southern Culture.

Commencement Exercises

It has long been customary for the college to hold commencement exercises in June and at the end of the summer school session; two years ago special graduation ceremonies were held for January graduates. Actually, with more and more students accelerating their college education, there could be six such occasions during the year. This being the case, Dr. Newman has announced that from now on all Longwood graduates who wish to celebrate the completion of their degree requirements by a commencement program must be present in June for the one gala affair. Last June for the first time these exercises were held out of doors in the mall in front of Wheeler Dormitory, and an impressive occasion it was.

Miss Olive Iler is surrounded by some of "her girls" at the tea given in honor of her birthday.

Chapter Comments:

The BALTIMORE Chapter alumnae entertained their husbands last fall at a buffet dinner in the home of Janie Richards Markuson. The chapter has made a beginning on their Scholarship Fund in memory of Virginia Watkins Douglas.

Alumnae in BLACKSBURG and the surrounding area were guests at a tea in the home of Helen Jeffries Miles in September. This occasion renewed friendships and made the alumnae aware of the large number of Longwood alumnae in that area. The girls plan to meet again in the spring and organize a chapter. Elizabeth S. Jones, national alumnae secretary, was on hand to greet the alumnae.

Our SOUTHSIDE Chapter which includes alumnae from Blackstone, Crewe, Burkeville, Amelia and Kenbridge met in November and had as guest, Elizabeth S. Jones, national alumnae secretary. Dr. James H. Newman, college president, spoke at the annual dinner meeting in April in Kenbridge. The chapter gives a book scholarship to an area student who is attending Longwood.

The DANVILLE alumnae are planning a get-together in Nov. in the home of Miss Lee Robertson who is chapter extension chairman on the national alumnae board. Alumnae from Chatham and surrounding areas will be invited to attend.

The FARMVILLE Chapter met in October at the Alumnae House and members enjoyed a tea before the meeting. As always, the alumnae, faculty, and friends enjoyed the delightful coffee hour at the Alumnae House which the chapter gives each Founders Day. This occasion is a highlight of the day for many returning alumnae. Dr. and Mrs. James Newman were honored guests at the spring luncheon in the College Tea Room. Dr. Newman spoke to the group. The chapter bestows their Mary White Cox scholarship to a deserving Prince Edward county girl each year who will attend Longwood.

The GREENSBORO Chapter had a delightful spring luncheon in the spacious home of Elise Turner Franklin in May. Mr. Edgar Thomas, public relations director, and Mr. Jacob Wamsley, college business manager, were guests and gave talks. Alumnae from Reidsville and Winston-Salem joined the group for the occasion.

The WILLIAM HENRY RUFFNER CHAPTER of the Lexington-Rockbridge county area held its annual luncheon at the Tri-Brook Country Club and heard an interesting talk on the college by Mr. Edgar Thomas, public relations director.

The LYNCHBURG Chapter holds four regular meetings a year. At the Spring luncheon, Dr. and Mrs. James Newman and Elizabeth S. Jones were special college guests. Dr. Newman and Mrs. Jones both spoke to the group. The James River Club was gay with table decorations of geraniums which Marguerite Foster Mohr had given. The chapter raises money for a scholarship fund and also maintains a Loan Fund.

The NORFOLK Chapter has the established custom of having a chapter meeting the first Saturday in each month in a tea room in one of Norfolk's department stores. Miss Margaret Johnson plans interesting programs for these get-togethers. At Christmas time, the members entertain the area students who are home for the holidays. Dr. and Mrs. James Newman were honored guests at the spring luncheon at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club. The chapter sent a special monetary gift for the College President's Discretionary Fund.

There are a number of alumnae in ORLANDO, FLA. who meet for luncheons with "Charlie Hop" French who is retired and makes his home there. One get-together honored Miss Ruth Gleaves, former Dean of Women, who was there on vacation.

The PENINSULA Chapter began the year with its annual fall tea honoring new alumnae in the area in the home of Mrs. Billie Millner. A card party and fashion show was given in March to raise money for the Student Loan Fund which the chapter maintains. Eight alumnae were models for the show. Mr. Edgar Thomas, public relations director at Longwood, was honored guest and speaker at the annual luncheon in May. Also honored were prospective Longwood students in the area.

Longwood Alumnae of Virginia Beach.

The PETERSBURG Chapter members were privileged to have Dr. James H. Newman, college president, as their guest at their fall tea, so that he, too, could chat with prospective students for Longwood. Many high school students were there from Petersburg and Colonial Heights.

The PHILADELPHIA Chapter draws members from Delaware, and New Jersey in addition to Philadelphia and the surrounding area. The chapter bazaar in November featured gifts suitable for Christmas. Elizabeth S. Jones, national executive alumnae secretary, was honored guest at the spring luncheon given in the Alpha Club, and her talk was most interesting to the members. In June members and their families were guests for an outing at the summer home of Barbara Herr Muehlman.

The RALEIGH Chapter met at the College Inn for a supper meeting in September, and in March the chapter had as honored college guest, Mr. Edgar Thomas, public relations director, who spoke to the members. A luncheon meeting is planned for this February.

The RICHMOND Chapter entertained approximately one hundred incoming students to Longwood from the Richmond area. For assistant hostesses, the chapter asked Longwood sophomores and juniors to serve. In November, the chapter hosted at Open House in the John Marshall Hotel Wythe Room for the Alumnae attending the convention. In April, the annual luncheon was held at the Hermitage Country Club with 94 alumnae present. Dr. James Newman and Elizabeth S. Jones of the college both spoke to the group. The chapter scholarship recipient student was there, and thanked the group for the honor bestowed on her. The chapter awards two scholarships each year to deserving students who will be freshmen at Longwood. The chapter has money-raising projects to help with their year's works.

The ROANOKE Chapter held its annual fashion show and dinner last fall. The chapter awards a scholarship to a deserving student to attend Longwood. Miss Mary Nichols of the English Department at Longwood spoke at the annual luncheon at the Holiday Inn in April.

The VALLEY Chapter includes alumnae from Staunton, Waynesboro, and surrounding areas. In February, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Newman and Elizabeth S. Jones were honored guests at the chapter luncheon at the General Wayne Motor Inn. Many alumnae were there to greet our new college president.

The SUFFOLK Chapter sponsored a white elephant sale to raise money for the projects for the year. In May, Mr. Henry Bittinger, of the History and Social Science Dept., was guest and speaker for the annual supper meeting. Many prospective students for Longwood were special guests for the occasion.

The VIRGINIA BEACH Chapter sponsored a fashion show and luncheon at the Cavalier Hotel last February. Many chapter members and guests enjoyed the festive occasion, which featured professional models.

The METROPOLITAN Chapter of the Washington area had a successful year beginning with a meeting in November when the members told of their memorable college experiences. Mr. Jacob Wamsley, college business manager, spoke to the members at their luncheon. In May, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Jones were guests at the tea in the home of Fran Powell Harper in Falls Church.

Alumnae Tour

Europe will see Longwood alumnae again on tour July 26 to August 16, 1967. This 22-day journey by jet will take you to Ireland, the London area, Copenhagen, Lucerne, Rome, Madrid and Paris.

Using first class hotels, including two meals daily and well-planned sight-seeing with English-speaking guides, the tour group will visit some of the most fascinating places in Europe.

It will begin with fun and frolic in Ireland, with high jinx abounding at a Medieval Banquet at Bunratty Castle. Next will come London-town, with visits to Westminster Abbey, the Tower of London and other spots you've heard about all of your life, plus a trip to Shakespeare's Stratford-on-the-Avon. On to Copenhagen, where you'll be tempted by Danish design in all the shops, and where you'll take an excursion to Hamlet's Castle.

You will then jet to Lucerne, nestled like a jewel on its lovely lake and surrounded by towering mountains. Continuing to Rome, you will enjoy the sights of Ancient and Christian Rome, the Vatican Museums and St. Peter's and take an excursion to see the fountains of Tivoli. One evening you will attend a spectacular opera at the Baths of Caracalla.

Charming Madrid will be next, with visits to the Prado Museum and the Royal Palace, and trips into the countryside to El Escorial and the Valley of the Fallen, and to Toledo, El Greco's home. And for variety you may witness a bullfight!

Your trip will end all too soon in Paris with sight-seeing and shopping and an excursion to the Palace of Versailles.

George P. Elliott will serve as your Tour Conductor. Folders descriptive of the tour may be secured from your Alumnae Secretary, Elizabeth S. Jones.

See page 54 about last year's tour.

IT IS MOST IMPORTANT THAT ALL ALUMNAE NOTIFY THE ALUMNAE OFFICE IMMEDIATELY WHEN THEY CHANGE AN ADDRESS AND OR NAME!

The Alumnae Association has to pay as much as 10c for forwarding and return postage, in some cases, and this is becoming increasingly costly. Tracing alumnae who have moved consumes time in the Alumnae Office which could be used to better advantage. Much time and money can be saved if alumnae will send a government or "moving company" postal notifying us of changes of address. This will also insure delivery of the ALUMNAE BULLETIN. Please add the ZIP CODES!

How perfectly the theme of "Tradition - Excellence - Challenge" describes our wonderful feeling about Longwood! Since the first day we sang "Our daughters true, faithful, and loyal will be," we have embraced all the lovely old traditions and pledged far more than just four years' loyalty to Longwood!

We can be "true daughters" today by remembering our fine traditions and giving more generously to our Alumnae Fund Appeal as our way of helping Longwood achieve greater excellence. It is in this spirit that we are challenged to meet our new financial goal of $25,000—a goal that requires increased alumnae support of Longwood in two major areas:

1. $15,000 with which to finance our Association's essential services, some of which are—publishing our excellent magazine, maintaining our useful Alumnae House, operating our Alumnae Office, organizing alumnae chapters and contributing to loan and scholarship funds for students.
2. $10,000 to our College President's Discretionary Fund to provide some unrestricted funds with which President Newman may meet College emergencies that call for financial assistance to the faculty, students, and educational projects, for which no state funds are available.

To accomplish these financial objectives we need 100% alumnae participation and more generous gifts by all contributors. As concerned alumnae who care deeply about our Alma Mater, we can add our share of excellence to a greater Longwood by giving generously to this fund appeal.

EIGHTY-THIRD FOUNDERS DAY

March 18, 1966

Dear Longwood Alumna:

You are cordially invited to attend Founders Day and to enjoy the fellowship of your classmates and renewing acquaintances. Classes ending in 7's and 2's will be celebrating reunions.

Due to the crowded space in the college dormitories, we are requesting Alumnae planning an overnight stay for Founders Day to please make their room reservations directly with the HOTEL WEYANOKE, and to notify the alumnae office. We hope many alumnae will return for Founders Day. Do come! We look forward to your visit with much anticipation.

Your Candidates:

Jean RIDENOUR Appich, '52, of Richmond is truly an alumna who embodies all the finest qualities and spirit of a Longwood graduate. She has served as president of the Richmond Chapter of Alumnae and recently completed a two-year term as first vice-president of the National Alumnae Association. Jean is active in her Presbyterian Church, member of the Florence Nightingale Circle of Sheltering Arms Hospital, member Woman's Committee of Richmond Symphony, worker in the PTA, and member of the Tuckahoe Woman's Club. She also serves as alumnae secretary of her class and writes wonderful newsletters for the Alumnae Magazine. Jean and her husband, Charles, have four children.

Betty JONES Klepser, '51, of Arlington has recently served as president of our Metropolitan Alumnae Chapter. She is alumnae class secretary of her class and writes interesting letters for the alumnae magazine. Betty is active in Woman's Club, her Methodist Church, and in both Washington and Alexandria Medical Auxiliary Societies. Betty and her husband, Roy, have three children.

Katharine E. Gilbert, '18, has taught in Lynchburg since graduating and has been an active and interested alumna through the years. She is a member of the Lynchburg Alumnae Chapter, a member of Old Dominion Chapter, UDC; the NEA and the VEA, in addition to her Methodist Church work. Katharine said she has three diplomas: one signed by Dr. Jarman, one by Dr. Lancaster, and the last one by Dr. Lankford!

CLASS NEWS:

Sue Fulks Williams '95 is retiring as manager of Summer Rest, a vacation resort near Greenwood, having been manager since 1929. It was said the "'manager' might be missed as much as the managed!"

Elizabeth Smithson Morris, '96, whose lifetime covered nearly a half a century of teaching, died at the age of eighty-six.

Nellie C. Preston '99 died at her home in Seven Mile Ford. She was a member of a family widely known in southern Virginia since pre-revolutionary times, and the author of "Paths of Glory" a biography of Patrick Henry's sister.

Ethel Cole Ould, '02 an octogenarian, still faces a busy schedule as an accredited family relations counselor. She is in much demand by colleges, clubs, church groups and other organizations.

Leonora Ryland Dew, '07 was recently honored by a presentation of Life Membership in Virginia Congress of P. T. A. by the Lancaster High School P. T. A.

Nannie Ranson Bailey, Elem. Prof. '10, just returned from a tour of the Holy Land. She is active in church work and club work.

Grace Cox, '12 died October '66. Her many years of devoted teaching at bedside and in the classroom were praised by the Board of Education and Hospital Center in Orange, N. J.

Elizabeth Kendrick Easley '12 is an officer in the Bluefield Branch of A. A. U. W.

Elizabeth Malcolm Hinternhoff '17 though retired from teaching says she has never been so busy. She joined an art club and "hopes that Rembrandt et al. are not turning over in their graves when I take charcoal in hand." Also hopes to make trips to Egypt, Spain and to Farmville for her 50th reunion.

'13 Acting Secretary:
Nena Lochridge,
(Mrs. J. W. Sexton),
2506 Fairview Rd.,
Raleigh, N. C.

Since we had our fiftieth reunion in 1963, you can say we are "Ole Timers," but we prefer to call ourselves "The Grandmother's Club," because that is just what most of us are now. And since raising our families has been the life's work of the majority of us, we thought you might like to hear of our accomplishments.

Some of our class have chosen the "Career Road." Of these none is more outstanding than Florence Buford. She received her Master's in Political Science from the U. of Va. and since then has been tireless in her efforts to make Charlottesville schools superior. Her many deeds have been recognized by the First Edition of Who's Who of American Women. When Florence retired last year as principal in Charlottesville, having served thirty-three years, hers was the longest tenure of any principal there. Now as to the monument to this outstanding classmate of ours, there is a new school, Buford Jr. High. Also a large oil painting of Florence in the Clark school where she spent most of her life. She lives in Lawrenceville now.

Jennie Earnest Mayo has spent her married life with Colonel Davis Mayo in Lexington. Col. Mayo has retired as professor of Mathematics at VMI. Their only child, Betty, finished at Sweet Briar and did graduate work at Radcliffe College. Betty married Louis John who is professor of International Law at Harvard.

Julia Rollins Ashby returned to her childhood home in Covington after the death of her husband, Major David H. Ashby. Julia has two sons, David H. and J. Lewis. Both are with the U. S. Govt. in Washington. Julia's daughter, Mary Ashby Locke, lost her young husband but has her son, Richard Locke. Mary is chief dietician in Sinai Hospital in Baltimore.

Margaret Boatwright McIntyre and her husband, Archie, live in Marion S. C. Their son, Archie Jr., has taken over his father's business. He married Virginia Shackleford, '46, a Longwood graduate, and they have three daughters.

Gladys Virginia Allen Weidner, Dip. '22 was recently honored with a breakfast by the faculty at Oakland Elementary for her service of twenty years in teaching.

Frances Moorman Walter, Dip. '24, has completed a book "The Early Episcopal Church in the Amherst-Nelson Area" which tells the story of the Episcopal church dating back to Jamestown 1607.

Mary Spiggle Michael, Dip. '26, is working in the V. P. I. Library. Her husband retired last year from Agricultural extension service. Daughter Anne is teaching in Florida and Jean is a sophomore at William and Mary.

Samuel McCoy Baughan, son of Margaret McCoy Baughan, Dip. '26, of Rich Square, N. C. and nephew of Bonnie and Elizabeth McCoy, '35 and '43 of Martinsville was one of fifty-three students accepted to major in drama at North Carolina School of Arts.

Annie Denit Darst's, Deg. '31, husband has been appointed District Superintendent of Rappahannock district in the Virginia Methodist Conference.

Jessica Jones Binns, Deg. '35, is still head of the math department at Hermitage High, and with church activities and family doings she has a full and busy life. Helen Shawen Hardaway, Deg. '35, plays as much golf as possible, does club and church work. Her son Scott is in high school and Mary Gregg will be married this summer. Elizabeth Vassar Pickett, Deg. '35, has been doing graduate work in English at U. of Va. for two years. Katherine Walton Fontaine and son, Jim, will study French at the Sorbonne this summer, "a lifelong dream come true."

Mabel Burton Marks, Deg. '39, says she's in her 27th year of teaching. The Class of '39 has placed $65.49 into a Leola Wheeler Scholarship Fund.

Kerrington Young Garris '67x of Martinsville has been appointed editor of The Easterner, newspaper of the Eastern Division office of the State Farm Mutual Auto Insurance Co.

Their daughter, Jean, is a graduate of Duke U.; is married and has two sons. Margaret's younger daughter, Margaret, '46, was the third generation of her family to graduate at Longwood.

Ruth Harding Coyner and Boyd have one son who is the composite of all the finest qualities ten children might possess. Dr. M. Boyd Coyner, Jr. received his B.A., M.A., and PhD degrees from U. Va. where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the Raven Society, and ODK. He is professor of history at Hampden-Sydney College. He has served as Archivist of the Va. State Library. He married the former Bessie Gilmer of Hampden-Sydney and their children are Martin Boyd III, Meredith, Ruth, and Thomas.

Anne Woodruff Hall and her husband, Raymond, who was with Hallmark Cards, live in Kansas, and they have one son.

All of us should have attended Founders Day 1964 for the dedication of the Hiner Building which honored our classmate Winnie and her sister Mary Clay. It's wonderful this has happened to our Winnie.

Finally, my part of this class genealogy is that my husband, John W. Sexton, has retired as an official of the Seaboard Railroad. Our daughter, Beverley, married Charles Hathaway and they live in Charlottesville where he is with the newspaper and she teaches science in the high school. Betty, our younger daughter, married John R. Wills, Jr. who is a building contractor in Suffolk. Their children are Johnny, who is attending Carson Newman College, Beverley, who is attending Columbia Bible College in S. C., and William Sexton Wills, who is in the seventh grade.

Acting Secretary:
Myrtle Dunton,
(Mrs. W. F. Curtis),
3206 Noble Ave.,
Richmond, Va.

I will begin by telling you about Founders Day and our "Golden Reunion." Eight of the remaining 116 classmates arrived at the Alumnae House in time for coffee. Ellen Parsons from Cape Charles looked like a real model. She is retired but travels around having fun. Elizabeth Young came from Prospect where she lives and is an active church member. Rita Hatcher only taught two years, and has retired from a career in banking in Chester. Madeline Warburton Carswell and her Presbyterian "preacher husband" of 35 years are retired and live in Providence Forge. They have a lovely family of seven children. Vix Rucker White lives at the Jefferson Hotel because four of her six children live here. Thelma Parker Bobb and Eleanor Daughtry Stephenson are both widows and live in Ivor and visit their children here and there. The eighth one, Myrtle Dunton Curtis, has lived in Richmond since graduation. Her husband is now retired and she's fortunate to have her only daughter, Mrs. John E. Whitmore, and her husband and four children live in Richmond.

We eight "Longwood Girls" (Dr. Jarman) had a lovely day—morning program, lunch together where we were presented a Longwood Wedgwood china after-dinner cup and saucer by the Alumnae. We were much photographed and later went to tea. We enjoyed every minute, and wished that more of our classmates could have come.

As Mary Morris says, "a lot of water has run under the bridge." It seems only a year or two ago when we gathered for the 25th and told of our families and ties. Mary Morris went to New York Parsons School of Fine and Applied Arts three years—Arts Student League, Anatomy under Bridgeman—even won a scholarship at Parsons. She picked up the Greeting Card designing and was deluged with business and now keeps a studio in New York and divides her time between there and Farmville. These career girls are fascinating! Lillian Todd lives in Hampton and has retired to the culture of roses—roses as tall as she. Charlotte Dadmun retired in 1960 after serving all phases of teaching and as elementary supervisor most of the time in Norfolk. She lives in Richmond with her aunt, Miss Hope Morgan, on Park Avenue.

Buggs Noel Harr has an apartment in Johnson City, W. Va. Her husband has been with V. A. for 34 years and is retiring shortly. She has a daughter, Mrs. John Woodward, in Richmond. Olivia Newbill taught forty-four years and is now retired and makes her home with a bachelor brother in Wirtz. Pearl Ellet Crowgey lives in Roanoke with her retired husband who was deep in educational work in that area. They have four daughters and four sons all of whom are married and live in six states. Three of her daughters are graduates of Longwood.

Mary Reynolds Barksdale lives in Sutherlin where she taught until 1963 at which time she lost her husband. Her nephew will manage her farm and she will live with a sister in Sutherlin. Isabel Seaman Chalmers wishes to hear from some of you. She is a widow of two years, lives in Brookneal and does some baby-sitting. Altha Duwall Word lives in Richmond near her two daughters who are married and have two children each. Judith Holland Hill came to her old home in Holland after her husband died eight years ago to be with a brother. Judith taught in N. C., also in Boykins where she met her husband.

Susie Hutt Davis celebrated her Golden Anniversary June 5. Congratulations, Susie! They live at Laurel Springs Farm at Mt. Holly near Rappahannock. Mary Macon Lovelace lives in Malvern Manor Apt. Did you remember that she was vice president of the Student Body and Buggs Noel Harr was president? Mary Bennett Nottingham lives in Bon Air and does some substitute teaching. Lulu Jones Worsham lives on the Boulevard and takes nice trips when she can. Both daughters are married and live in Richmond. Annie B. Allen Council is a widow and lives in a ranch house on the Rappahannock River but comes to Richmond for the winters.

Annie Sue Fulton Clark and her husband live in Stuart and her daughter and son live there with their six children. Mr. Clark is a contractor, also banker. Louise Fulton, her sister, has retired from a teaching career in Delaware, Va., and N. C. and also lives in Stuart. Harriet Curling Rose is a widow and lives in Portsmouth where she stays busy making talks to various church groups. One son is a chemical engineer in Portsmouth, and another is an architect in landscaping in the Depr. of Forestry. Her daughter lives in Raleigh, N. C. and has three sons. Harriet enjoys nice trips when visiting them. Also she allowed herself to dream a little about the happy days at SNS! Cornelia Seabury lives in Petersburg and enjoys volunteer visiting in a hospital nearby, and visiting friends in Texas frequently. Alice Smith Starke says her hair is still red—how delightful! Her only daughter and three children live on an island in the Indian Ocean where her Scotsman husband is Minister of Finance. Alice lives in Ormond Beach, Fla. with her husband Melville. Nan Stewart taught the first grade in Portsmouth for 46 years. She did receive her degree from Longwood in 1945. Now retired and busier than ever.

Margaret Page Massey lives in North Garden, has two children and five grandchildren. Last summer a hundred different people visited her! She has taught the ladies class in a Baptist church for forty years. Margaret has traveled in 35 of our states. Gilliam Wallar Lamond lives in Takoma Park, Md. and spends her time in church duties mostly with "gray lady" work and golf thrown in to make it complete.

Margaret W'ongcott Newsome lives in Portsmouth. Her husband is a retired druggist. One son is an Episcopal minister in Suffolk and the other a musician-composer. You can see and hear him on the NBC Tonight Show.

Now must say my best wishes to you all for 1966.

Degree Class of '27

REMEMBER THIS ONE THING—MARCH '67 IS OUR 40th REUNION AND WE WANT TO GET THE CUP AGAIN.

Cornelia Dickinson Nuckols lives in Charlottesville working in the Trust Dept. of the Virginia National Bank. On the side she raises fine dogs at "Oakcroft" and is recognized as among the best breeders. She has one married son who has four children . . . Virginia Vincent Saffelle's letter drips with enthusiasm over meeting you all again next year. She and Dr. Saffelle live in Emporia where she is the first Ecumenical Choir Director . . . directs in her own church and other denominations as well! She has three children and 4 grandchildren . . . Frances Sale Lyle and her retired tobacconist husband live in Danville where I hear she does a wonderful job in church and civic work. They have two children, a daughter doing graduate work at the U. of Ga. and a son who is Asst. to the Director and Curator of the Museum in Lexington . . . Virginia Graves Krebs sent word by my husband who has preached in "her" church recently, that she expected to be back next year. She is so modest about her "contributions" I will tell what I hear about her—The church and town could not get along as well without her.

Ann Irving Potts is another "uncooperatively modest" person. She and her retired tobacconist husband live in Amelia. Their older son, Richard, helps with his father's varied interests and the younger, Joe, is still in school. Ann is the moving spirit in the Episcopal Church, tho' she would deny this.

We have these girls to thank for their help in getting this material:

Lib Williams Ellet lives and teaches in Zebulon, N. C. She is busy in civic and educational projects and is in both Who's Who for American Women and Who's Who in the South ('66-'67). Elise Allgood Cook lives and teaches in LaCrosse. She returned to Longwood and received her degree in '64 and will do work on her Master's this summer. They have two sons. Alene Alphin Mann was for 26 years sec'y to the Bus. Ex. at VMI. Her husband is rounding out 45 years of teaching and they will retire and live in Lexington.

Panline White Reed's last teaching was in "Adult Education" in Richmond. She and her husband have enjoyed traveling and are retired and live in the Mobjack area . . . Lillian Minor has retired from active teaching and is back in her native Oxford, N. C. Lillian got her Master's from Columbia and her PhD from Peabody College and was Director of the Children's School at the Norfolk Naval Base . . . Mildred Spindle has spent her teaching years in two systems in Amelia Court House and in the Falls Church communities. She, too, has loved traveling "while someone else has taken responsibility for the trips." . . . Jacqueline Irby Jones phoned to say that she and her husband live in Baltimore where he is Pres. of the Dist. Farms Credit Banks which operate in 50 states and Puerto Rico. They have one son, a graduate of VPI.

Rosalind Harrell White is still writing poetry, bless her, and her writing is as virile and as beautiful as it was in '27. She holds membership in the Poet's Club of Norfolk and in the Poetry Society of Va. They have one son, a sophomore at Old Dominion College in Norfolk . . . We are including only one picture and that is of a "retreating" member, Louise Bondurant, who was caught when "Ginny" hit Norfolk last year. The picture's caption read, "Dog Gone With the Wind." Louise said her dog had slipped from the leash and a local photographer caught her and the picture was reprinted in Life magazine.

Mildred Lohr de Irizarry's name will appear in Who's Who in American Women in '66. Mildred teaches at the U. of Puerto Rico and is praised for her contributions to the educational and cultural activities so necessary for progress anywhere.

Mary E. Carrington is still teaching mathematics in the Durham City Schools and working part time as a receptionist at McPherson Hospital.

And now, what about the Redheads? Jack is busy preaching and I am busy trying to "practice what he preaches." We have three children, two girls married (with five little girls between them) and a son who will be married less than four weeks now so if this sounds "hurried or harried," I'm a little of both. However, if you will come back next March I will tell you all—so do be there!

Odell Smith, after teaching a while, returned to receive her B.S. in Education in 1944. She earned an M.A. in Guidance from the U. of N. C. at Greensboro in 1951, and she has 30 hours of work beyond M.A. in NDEA institutes and summer school workshops. Since 1958, Odell has been a Counselor at Walter Hines Page Senior High School, Greensboro, N. C. She is an advisor to the Future Teachers of America and for the past eight years has also been an advisor to Junior Civettes. She is a member of American Personnel and Guidance Association.

Odell has gone all the way up the ladder as a member of Alpha Delta Kappa, Honorary Sorority for Teachers, to the highest honor—that of being Grand President of Alpha Delta Kappa International in 1963-65. Congratulations!

Odell is an active member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the N. C. Historical Association and an active church member. Longwood will be proud to know that their Odell is listed as "Who's Who" of American Women in the 4th Edition. She's also listed in "Who's Who" in N. C.

In April I attended the VEA School Librarians' meeting in Lynchburg, and yours truly

Louise Woodson Orrell of Roanoke; Frances Crawford of Staunton; and Rene Robertson '31 of Lynchburg had a little reunion. I was sorry to learn that Louise lost her husband in May, '64. Her son is married and is working with an insurance firm in Winston-Salem, N. C. Frances is librarian at Robert E. Lee High, and Rene, at Fort Hill Elementary in Lynchburg.

I chatted with Charlotte Hutchins Roberts in Portsmouth by telephone in May. Her oldest daughter is married and living in Columbus, Ohio and has two children. Charlotte's youngest daughter is graduating from Wm. & M. in June. From Charlotte I learned that Harriett Branch Major had recently undergone major surgery at Portsmouth General Hospital for a back ailment. Harriett, each of us is wishing for you complete recovery. Harriett's daughter graduated from Mary Washington College in June. Kathryn Claud Stewart of Suffolk has three granddaughters.

Jane Witt Kisler's letter at Christmas was filled with news of her five offspring. Her youngest, Rich, will enter Purdue U. in the fall to study engineering. Her oldest, Ronnie, is married and has two sons. Another son, John, with G. E., had just completed a six month assignment in Sweden; Harold, Jr. is with IBM in Philadelphia, and Kathy is teaching math at Lakewood, N. J. Jane and Harold can justly be proud of such a successful family.

Bless you, Easter Souders Wooldridge for your gem of a letter in February. Husband Ed, since his retirement from the Navy, is teaching mathematics in junior high in Lynchburg. After an absence of twenty years from teaching, Easter has gone back to the classroom and is teaching French in the elementary school. She has had some of her French verse published in The Instructor. Last summer she and Ed spent a month in Europe; this summer she and her daughter, Holly Kay, a senior at Lynchburg College, plan on visiting the Scandinavian countries. Son Bill graduated from Harvard last June and is doing graduate work at St. Andrews U. in Scotland on a fellowship. Easter writes "Nothing marks the time since graduation so clearly as seeing the children grown up."

Frances Barrell Stallings lives in Herndon and works as an editorial assistant at the Tax Court of the U. S. in Washington. She has a son at Carleton College in Northfield, Minn.; and a daughter entering the College of Wooster in Wooster, Ohio in the fall. Her youngest is in intermediate school. Frances says she is interested in our 35th reunion in '67, and I am interested. How about meeting Frances and me at Longwood next March?

Virginia Fultz Crowder and husband spend the winters in Florida, and the summers on their farm in Virginia. In winter she teaches fifth grade in Jacksonville. Their oldest son graduated from the U. Medical College in Gainesville, interned in Charlotte, N. C. and when he completes his tour with the Navy, will have a two-year residency in Miami in Ophthalmology. He is married and has one son. Their daughter has just received her B.S. degree and is finishing the year teaching in Melbourne, Fla. I quote the sad note in her letter, "We lost our youngest son three years ago on the Fourth of July in Virginia in an accident. He was only sixteen." Our belated sympathy to you and your family, Virginia.

I feel close to Anne Watkins Rice Elliott since her son Nelson and my Edmund graduated in the same class at VMI. Nelson taught at VMI last year, and is now at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond preparing for the Presbyterian Ministry. Peyton, the younger son, is at W. & L. next door to VMI in Lexington, where my Stephen is finishing his second year. Anne Watkins' husband is town manager in Manassas.

Nan Mears Kirby had another wedding in the family in May. One daughter was married in the fall of '65 and Marilyn in '66. Wish I could have attended the wedding as Nan was bridesmaid in my wedding 31 years ago, so this, too, was close to my heart. Nan and Dr. Bill live in Cranston, R. I.

While typing this, a letter arrived from Ellen Earle Jones Huffman of Berryville, and I quote, "Do say 'Hi' to the class of '32 for me, please." Ellen Earle's husband is a high school instructor while she stays busy in Berryville Presbyterian Church, Clarke County Woman's Club, Town and Country Garden Club, and as a Red Cross staff worker. Her daughter, Virginia, was married in 1963 and has been working at Columbia's Oceanography Research Center while her husband is working on his PhD at Columbia U. I close this letter with a great sense of pride in all I have written. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to share your successes, your failures, your happiness and your heartaches with the class of '32.

The letter from the Class of '34 will be written in the order of the responses received.

I, Berk Nelson, am about to complete my thirty-first year of teaching at Osbourn High School in Manassas. I might add that for the past several years, I have been keeping house for my father, and I am enjoying my avocation and my vocation immensely. Ida Mason Miller Dickson teaches with her daughter, Gari, at Brookland School in Henrico County. Gari, class of '63, was May Queen at Longwood. Her other daughter, Eleanor, is married to a State Senator and has three children. Grandmother Ida Mason is taking off for Europe this summer!

The card from Virginia "Honey" Hamilton Evans was returned—moved—no forwarding address. Ruth Gaines McClagherty is planning to "Go around the World" this summer with a Roanoke College group. Laurine Billings Stevens is teaching in Arlington and has a son in high school. She keeps in touch with Mary Diehl Doering who lives in Falls Church. Dot Prescott Roberts' son has graduated in medicine from the U. of N. C. and is now interning in Syracuse, N. Y. Dot and her husband are proud grandparents of two little girls. Maria Williams is busy teaching Corrective Reading in Savannah, Ga. this year and expects to start a reading program in her home town, Bainbridge, next year.

Alice McKay (Mrs. George Washington) of Woodford writes that her daughter, Jinx, is a student at Longwood and loves being there.

I can't remember how many other children Alice has, but she divulged the secret that she's looking forward any day to the arrival of her first grandchild! "Miss" Edith Shanks is teaching Latin at Roanoke's new Patrick Henry High School. She expects to assist the State Board of Education's Textbook and Curriculum Committee in evaluating Latin textbooks for adoption. Edith is also advisor for Patrick Henry's chapter of the National Honor Society.

Sue Yeaman Britton in Roanoke tells about her two daughters. One is married, and Sue babysits for her; the younger is a sophomore at Longwood and expects to do summer missionary work in Arizona. Lib Kelly Kearfott writes from Martinsville that her daughter has a daughter named Elizabeth Kelly Hodnett. Lib's son is completing his first year at Davidson.

Margaret Hunter Watson is the proud mother of two sons, postmistress of Darlington Heights, and a doting grandmother. "Grit" Parker Pond is convalescing from several operations. Her elder son, Dick, is married and lives in Suffolk. Julia, her daughter, is married and is a registered nurse in Boston, and Jeffrey, the youngest, is completing his freshman year at the U. of Richmond.

Not having written the class letter for several years, I am impressed with the thought that many of the members of the class of '34 are now grandmothers! I feel that I, too, can enter that category vicariously since I have been teaching the children of my former pupils for several years now!

Now is the time to begin planning for our Founders Day reunion March 18 and 19. We had 37 from the class of '37 for our 15th reunion! Wonder what the 30th will bring? No one had "changed a bit" then—Let's talk it up.

Just had to see Mary B., stopped to have supper with her in Petersburg one evening and ended up being editor of this news bit—my first attempt! She wrote people to send me news, and I'm putting it together—here goes.

Mary Virginia Blankenship Cramer, Richmond, is teaching a primary class in special education in Prince George County. She commutes—loves what she's doing—still studying at U. Va. (will probably get her Master's this summer in Spec. Ed.) She has three sons, one in the U. of Richmond. Ann Galusha is librarian at Dinwiddie, after working for some time in the State Library at Raleigh, N. C. Evelyn Howell Rose is living in Petersburg—has a daughter aged 15. Virginia Tilman Aeversold, at Saltville, has a daughter, Frances Jean, at Pan-American School in Richmond; a son, Robert, in Jr. High; and a 10-yr.-old daughter, Anita.

"Chic" Dortch Nelson, Fredericksburg, has a daughter, Fenton, graduating from RMWC this June and another one, Judy, who is a rising senior there. Her son, Cabell, will be a sophomore at U. Va. next fall. She teaches a couples' class discussion group in her Episcopal Church and husband Seddon sings in the choir. Minnie Smith Walker, Richmond, has a son in the Marine Corps and another in college. Mary Bowles Powell's son, Raleigh, and daughter, Nancy, are both attending MCV—one in medicine and the other in nursing. Mary B. is teaching a special education class in Petersburg.

Virginia Bean Hylton has a son in the Judge Advocate Dept. of Army Air Corps, stationed at Castle Air Base, in Merced, Calif. She and Walter flew jet out to see him and his wife in January. Her married daughter lives in Lawrenceville, close by. Lloyd Kelly Bagby, Danville, was encountered last fall at Lexington where her son attends VMI. Sue Mallory Cushwa is in Germany with her husband and children and is due to return to the states next year. Agnes Thompson Rowlett, Arlington, who has been living all over the country with her Army husband, is preparing to settle in Amelia on a cattle ranch when Colonel Rowlett retires soon from the Pentagon.

Helen Glass DuShane is teaching in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She is a grandmother, and her daughter Virginia and family live in Arkansas. Blessings on thee, Lucy P. Moseley! The first and only letter I received from Mary B's "SOS" arrived May 28 to bring news of the following: Bernice Jones Rawls, still in Suffolk, has returned to the teaching profession. Her daughter is attending Campbell College, N. C., and her son is working in Conn.

Charlotte Rice Mundy lost her husband, Jack, after only a week's illness in November. She is thankful for her librarian's job in a high school for keeping her busy. Our sympathy goes out to Charlotte.

"Lucy P." Moseley Epes is back in harness, too, in Newport News, and says it is nice to be associated with "little ones" again. Her daughter graduated at Ferrum and is working near home. Her older son just completed three years as a Senate page in Washington and will complete his high school education this year at Newport News. His younger brother is on the verge of finishing high school, too, so Lucy P. and Charlie will have some educating to do the next few years.

Virginia Leonard Campbell wrote from Richmond that she and Martha Glenn Davis Tyler had been so busy with their respective church bazaars that they couldn't find time to make news, much less write about it! She added the sad news that Jean Willis Stevenson died in June at her home in Richmond. Jean taught kindergarten in her church for sixteen years, and children dearly loved her. Our sympathy goes out to Milton and their three sons.

On the deadline date Virginia Baker Crawley's letter arrived, so we may add the news that daughter Betty not only was married, but was graduated from U. of Va. Nursing School this year! Son Jimmy left June 15 for a four-year stint in the Navy; daughter Susan is enrolled at Salem for the fall term; and our youngest class baby from the last reunion is now 8 years old! She was chosen "Little Miss Blackstone" in 1965. "Baker" is still teaching and "glad of it." She sounded the rallying cry—everybody out for the 30th reunion!

Here is the spirit I remember—instant responses to the requests for news—many thanks to each one for restoring my faith in humankind.

Dudley Allen Westmoreland, about ready to pass the teaching torch to someone else and maybe travel. Bonnalyn Avery Bugg '39, Richmond, headed up Mother's Committee, Christchurch School Patrons Assoc. this year. Betty Butterworth Soyars, Richmond, tailspin existence: Cancer Society work, on Board of Va. Home, golfing, Altar Guild, Sunday School teacher, would-be artist! She and Isabel Plummer Kay made Flemish flower arrangements together with friends last winter. Only Christmas brings greetings from Juanita Callis Hammond, Mathews. Swift Creek Mill Playhouse, Petersburg's wonderful new brag-about, boasts of Mary Joyner Cox Beck's able assistance with costumes; two sons and daughter are away at school.

Grace Allen Pittard Sydnor's letter from Lynchburg warmed my heart with news of Gee Gee Doughty Nottingham, Exmore. Quote: "She's more gracious and lovable than ever—if possible—and looks exactly the same." She taught in high school, husband in real estate. Caroline Upshur Walker, Nassawadox, supervisor in school system there. Alice Nelson King, Orange, two daughters, one at Mary Washington, one at Longwood (hooray!) Jacquelin Johnson Reid, Norfolk, teen-age son and daughter, teaches primary grade in private school, husband in insurance. In Clarksville, Frances Maxey Turnbull gave up teaching first grade to devote more time to family of two sons and daughter, 6. Grace Allen, herself, has worked with a "Teacher Aid" reading group, Sunday School teaching and tends to two daughters—one high school senior, one ninth-grader, and one college graduate son now in Air Force. Both girls are musical, one following piano, the younger—oboe! Jennie Belle Gilliam Powell, Petersburg, grows flowers and children; young Jimmie following father's footsteps into medicine, now on fellowship at Vanderbilt U., Bob at VPI. Little Jennie Belle enjoying high school and John, kindergarten.

From South Boston, Mary Harrison Vaughan Driscoll writes of son's graduation from Dartmouth, daughter Sarah's wedding in August, admits she's no joiner, writes weekly column for local paper, head of church Christian Education, civic volunteer work—still thinks it's grand to be alive. Lib Harris Miller is more social-minded, golfs, teaches fifth grade there and "is still lovely to look at and a joy to be around" . . . son at U. of Richmond.

Eugenia Jolly Woody, Petersburg, stays occupied with church, Garden Club and Harrison II, 6, and husband and dogs. Another grand response from Madeleine McGlothlin Watson, Bedford, tells of daughter at Mary Baldwin, two sons at Woodbury. The Pontiac business keeps them inspired and busy, though she and "O. B." find time to enjoy football games and golf.

Ruth Phelps Fisher has several degrees—one in divinity—has taught, studied in Scotland, talks like a book and plans to write one. Three children; one in service, one in private school, one married. Ivalyn Jordan Hardy, Bedford, has taught with marked success a class of slow primary youngsters. She has two fine children; husband farms. Matsie Moore Savage, Suffolk, has two sons at Wm. & Mary, daughter in eighth grade, and a grandson—well, me, too, Matsie!

Fabulous letter from Meriel McAllister Carriker, Woods Hole, Mass., sadly enough can only use excerpt of up-to-date news; "Since I haven't taken any formal courses in French since 1943 decided this summer would be a good time to reimmerge myself in the French language. Eric will be in Europe with a friend for the first of the summer, then on his annual Navy cruise on a nuclear sub; Bruce will be working on a Sun Oil tanker; Neal will be bellhop in a local summer hotel; and Robbie will be in Scout camp for at least two weeks, then visiting my sister. I've been accepted at the NDEA French Institute at Fairfield, Conn. for this summer." Husband Mel is at Maine Biological Lab., Woods Hole.

Birthday letter from Karhleen McCann Hanawalt—she's high school librarian in Belleville, Pa. where she, Bob, Carol Lee and Rob live. Celebrated St. Patrick's Day skiing at Mont Tremblant, Canada—and broke her leg!

You'll find Libby Roberts McCann at Blacksburg, husband Asst. Commandant at VPI; daughters at Agnes Scott and high school. Her sister Annette Roberts Tyler still in Washington area, preoccupied with four daughters and a son—Army folks. Norvell Montague Jones, a country parson's wife indeed—at Pohick Rectory—writes charmingly of its history and future plans for Gunston Hall. Vital statistics—daughter graduating from Sweet Briar. Nannie Page Trent Carlton lives in Tappahannock and enjoyed St. Margaret's May Day. Carter Belle Munt Clopton, Austin, Texas, is expected through Petersburg soon en route to Washington on gov't job business—daughter Randy's a doll.

Libby Morris Rogers: "I am a hundred pounds of happiness at least 23 hours of each day"—gets up at five—"to read, have coffee, look at my world, and enjoy being a part of it"—the epitome of "I Love Life". In 1961, she acquired Ed and a marvelous family of two red-headed children, Pam, now 19 at MCV and young Ed, 15. They read, birdwatch, farm and garden.

Now for a bit about Nan. She is the only woman on Petersburg's new three-man Beautification Commission. Nan dabbles in paints and civic work. She has a grandson who is the apple of her eye.

from colleges all over the U. S. Many of our group are back in teaching of some phase; others are planning or re-living exciting trips, and all who wrote really look forward to the annual news in the alumnae magazine.

Marge Nimmo Kiser, after 15 years in Orange, Texas, still misses Virginia. With one son in college, another in high school, and a daughter in sixth grade, she's back in teaching again—phys. ed. Grace Waring Putney, among other activities, runs her husband's office in Farmville—says life is never dull. Her children are all in college except the youngest boy—one at the U. of Ga. and two at VPI. Lucie, her youngest daughter, represented Farmville in the Tobacco Festival last fall, making her entire wardrobe for the occasion.

Annie A. Hardy lives in a remodeled house on a 180-acre cattle farm with her husband. Having earned her Master's degree in 1956, she reaches in Roanoke but finds time to travel with her husband, having made recent trips to the West Coast and Deep South. My card to Mildred Callis Thompson was the only one of almost 200 sent which came back marked "Addressee unknown." Does anyone have any recent information about Mildred?

Marion Shelton Combs lost her husband in April '65 after a long illness. She is still in Grundy but is considering moving back to the Richmond area with her youngest daughter, Martha, to be near her other two children—a son at the U. of Richmond and a daughter teaching at Colonial Heights. Marion and Libby West '41 are taking the Longwood Alumnae tour of Europe this summer and will meet daughter, Carol, somewhere on the continent. Marion had had recent brief visits with Estelle Mann Mitchell in Charlotte, N. C. (who was moving to Atlanta) and Nancy Moss Wollbrink of Tazewell.

Lorana Moomaw, who says she's an institution at Woodrow Wilson Jr. High in Roanoke, is planning another exciting trip west through the Rockies. She is now working on her 30 hours beyond Master's.

Fumi Wakayama Tajima wrote from Kobe, Japan, that her daughter, Kazubo, is coming to Virginia to school. She will enter Emory & Henry this fall but will undoubtedly visit her mother's alma mater during her stay here. Fumi mentioned Ella Banks Weathers Boyle, '44, whose husband is helping their church. Ella Banks lives near them, and she and her husband both speak Japanese well.

Olivia Stephenson Lennon of Caret has renewed her certificate for teaching again this fall. She was back for Founders Day and enjoyed it with the reunion class of '41 at Jane Jones Andrews' house on Friday night. Anita Carrington Taylor, in spite of poor health, helps her husband manage 16 rental housing units in South Hill. Her son, Billy, is a Class Scholar at Duke, having an academic record of 4.0. Congratulations! Eleanor Hutcheson Catlett has a daughter with the Peace Corps, recently stationed in Ethiopia; a son working on his doctorate at the U. of Calif., and another son entering Mich. State. She is living in Plymouth, Mich., but expected to move soon.

You will be saddened to hear that Jerry Hatcher Waring lost her husband, Basil, suddenly in January. Jerry, with three of her children in college, plans to move back to the homeplace in Roanoke as soon as she can sell her new home in Charleston, W. Va. Sad news, also, from Shirley Stephens Clausen. Her husband, Ed, a physician, died in February after a short illness. Shirley lives in Oakland, Calif.—has a son at the U. of Calif. and a 17-year-old daughter. She hears occasionally from Mary Mabone Grannis and Pattie Smith Kaylor '41.

Jean Watts Poe wrote from Eaton, Ohio, where she lives with her husband and three boys—one at VMI. She and Dod tragically lost their youngest son in a bike-auto accident in '64. Jean teaches Spanish and is working on her Master's at Miami U. A close friend of hers is another Longwood graduate, Ruth Montgomery Peters, class of '38. Ruth has a son at Northwestern, a daughter at Michigan State, and a boy in high school, all having received honors of various kinds.

Dot Fischer Mangels of Bay Shore, N. Y. attended her son's graduation and wedding in Denver, Colorado, last summer. Her daughter, Jill, is in college in New Hampshire. Elizabeth Wilkinson Blackburn telephoned from Kenbridge just after celebrating her 25th wedding anniversary. Her two daughters, Penny and Mary Jane, also Longwood graduates, are both married, and a son enters VPI in the fall. Lizzie, however, is fortunate in having more at home to keep her company.

Hazelwood Burbank Thomas wrote from Conn. that her time is occupied with gardening, weaving, flying with her husband and showing their West Highland white terrier. She has plans for becoming an elementary librarian. Ora Wilson Holland's big news is a new granddaughter; Rosemary Howell wrote of a coming European vacation; Elizabeth Scales DeShazo is back in teaching, plus being active in DAR, UDC, and Huguenot Society work; Laura Nell Crawley Birkland teaches near Gettysburg, Pa. where she lives with her husband and 11-yr.-old daughter; Martha McCorkle Taylor received a BS degree in Medical Technology from MCV last June, and is working in the hospital in Farmville. Her two daughters are married. Kitty Mavor Deekens, librarian at Amelia High School, has a son at Wm. & Mary and a daughter in high school; Myra Smith Ferguson, still teaching phys. ed. in Hampton, has one of her sons in college in Tenn.; Mary Lou Cunningham Warren recently attended a Home Demonstration convention in Ireland.

We are all proud of Jane Powell Johnson and Helen Jeffries Miles who are serving on our alumnae board as National Directors. Jane and Helen go back to Longwood at least twice a year. Incidentally, Helen and Elizabeth Scales DeShazo were both written up in VIRGINIA LIVES, THE OLD DOMINION WHO'S WHO, by Richard Lee Morton.

Frances Alvis Hulbert and family have moved to Washington, N. C. where her husband is an Episcopal minister. "Maude" came by Powhatan last summer and stopped to see me; it broke my heart that I happened to be away for the day. She did, however, meet my husband, so I managed to gather some first-hand news. I stay in fairly close contact with Pat Gibson Stewart '41 who is still in Arlington. Pat and her 15-yr.-old daughter, Patty, spent a weekend with me en route to the class of '41 reunion. She is re-entering the field of physical therapy, having successfully completed the state exam at MCV in March.

My news (Emil Ellis Wood) is very tame compared with all the letters received. I don't even have any children in college yet. My older boy, David, is a sophomore in high school and Mike, the younger, a seventh grader. I have enjoyed collecting material for the class letter. And having done it, I can more than ever appreciate the work done by Jane, Helen, and others who have worked so hard to see that the class of '40 never comes up blank. Many of you mentioned returning for our thirtieth reunion. I did last time, and it's worth all the planning and effort a hundred times over! I hope you'll be there.

Almost unanimously the class of '40 has children entering, attending, or graduating

What a wonderful 25th reunion we had! I only wish that more of you had joined the 28 of us who returned last March.

The years and Lady Clairol have been good to our class! It seemed to me that some members have mellowed and are more attractive than they were as undergraduates, although most of us have acquired a few more pounds and a gray hair or two. Certainly we have not lost our enjoyment of life or the pleasure gained from each other or our ability to talk endlessly. We just picked up the conversational threads where we last left off!

Jane Jones Andrews was our gracious hostess and made her attractive home our headquarters. She planned a party for us on Friday night, but the fourteen of us who stayed over Saturday night kept it in progress!

We sorely missed Charlie Hop. He is now living at 1509 Dove Drive, Orlando, Florida 32803 and had recently been hospitalized. We sent him messages, pictures and our very best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Jean Moyer Scorgie came all the way from Murfreesville, Pa. It was very natural looking to see her with Calarie Nelson Brown. Lots of other familiar student-day-combinations were in evidence—Crews Borden Baylor, Betty Fabr Lowe, and Helen McIlwaine Parker—Anna George Dashiell and Beverly Blair Henkel—Liz Garrett Rountrey and Marie (Birdie) Allen Burcher. Boo Barham Stons, Martha W'elchel Plummer, and I were distressed that illness prevented Dot Menefee MacCammond from completing our foursome. Harriette Haskins Eubank, tanned from a cruise to the Carribean, joined Margo Gerlaugh and Virginia Richards Dofflemyer.

Rosa Courter Smith (our water-ski enthusiast), Es Atkinson Jerome, Anne Cocks Vaughan, and Pat Gibson Stewart (slim and very attractive) were all present. Pat brought her fourteen-yr. old Patty who was quite patient with all our gab. All of us are much indebted to Pat for her efforts to get us to turn out for the reunion.

Bernice Callis Hudson, who teaches in Norfolk, and Mary Hillie McCoy, who is working out of VPI in 4-H extension work, were on hand, too. Lou Anna Blanton Newton, Frances Dudley Brooks, Edith Nunnally Hall, Evelyn Quillen Ryland, and Rosalie Coberly Smith (Wis.) and her sister, Alice Coberly Hall '42, Atlanta, Ga. joined us for the Alumnae Luncheon and picture-taking on Saturday.

Virginia Howell Clarke wired us her wishes for a joyous reunion, and the class received newsy letters from Ruth Lea Purdum Slaughter, Nell Hall Wilbourne and Florence Lee Putnam. Nell and Louise Hall Zirkle and their husbands were involved in a golfing vacation in Ga. Nell's younger daughter, Martha Harvey, is a sophomore at Mary Washington, and Susan, the older girl, is married to a jet pilot in the USAF.

Dotty Rollins Pauly and her family were on vacation in Fla., but Dotty wrote that the beautiful scenery did not make up for her disappointment in missing our fun. Ruth Lea was married in June to Temple Slaughter, President of the Assoc. of Stockbrokers, N. Y. Exchange, Washington, D. C. Our best wishes for your happiness, Ruth Lea!

Dot Menefee MacCammond was hospitalized last spring with rheumatoid arthritis and is hopefully continuing the therapy at home in Christiansburg. In July Dot and Mac vacationed in Miami. Our Fla. resident, Evelyn Krenning Moore, got a bit of the reunion vicariously by visiting Mr. French and sharing his pictures. She and her husband visited Anne Benton Wilder on their visit to Va. in June. Margo went to Europe this summer, and so did I, as a member of the first Longwood College Alumnae Tour. I urge all of you to sign up for the next one. A wonderfully pleasurable way to travel!

Georgia Watson Wilkerson has completed 20 yrs. service with Home Demonstration Clubs and received a distinguished service award last October.

Perry Smith McDowell '40 has an unusual hobby and job as a general contractor in the Norfolk area, specializing in renovating and restoring old homes, especially those of historic value. Calarie brought to the reunion a scrapbook she had compiled for our tenth reunion. As your new secretary I plan to get out a similar questionnaire this year. Be sure to return your forms as soon as possible before you forget! Through the years we have lost contact with some of our group. Does anyone know how to reach Susie Pearl Crocker Jones, Elizabeth Glasgow Rice, Ruth Loring Weed, Bert McLaughlin Johnson, Bonnie Stevenson McKenzie or Ruth Winstead Maloney? Notify me and the Alumnae Office, please.

It has been a long time since we have had a letter in the ALUMNAE MAGAZINE, and, with the help of many of you good people, we have attempted to reach each member of the class. Although the response was small, the news is interesting and gratifying.

Peggy Bellus Sands has been living in Williamsburg for eighteen years and loves it. Her husband, George, taught at Wm. & Mary and is now associated with NASA, Langley Field. They have three children: Linda, 16; Kimberly, 13; and Bill, 7. Peggy says, "One of the good things about living in Williamsburg is that people come to see you from all over the country." Nancy Bondurant Wilson has been in Danville since 1950 and "since no one would hire me, I had to hire myself." She established a janitorial and maintenance supply company called Wilco, Inc. Her husband is personnel and industrial relations manager at H. K. Porter-Disston Div. They have two children, Nancy 18, and Jack, 14.

Sue Dunlap Blake has been living in Lanham, Md. for fourteen years. Her four children are Frances, 14; Margaret, 13; Anne, 12; and John, 10. They are "involved in a whirl of church, school, and community activities," and Sue is a 4-H Club leader. Nancy Dupuy Wilson writes they are moving to Sacramento, Calif. in July so her pediatrician husband, John, can "join a clinic and be a Daddy around the house sometimes." She hopes to fly back for the reunion next year, but in any event will send her movies taken in '42 and '52. So come and see!

Caroline Eason Roberts wrote a real newsy letter, and I shall give it verbatim. Carolyn Harvey Jones '41 deg. has three children and teaches in her home town of Holland. Jane Lee Hutcheson Hanbury has six children. One daughter graduated from Mary Baldwin in June. Libby Carter Penn has entertained the Valley Alumnae Chapter at her home in Waynesboro. She has two daughters. Polly Hughes Weathers drives to Massanetta from Fla. every summer with a car full of children. Inez Jones Wilson '43 teaches in Staunton. Allene Orebey Hunt drove over from Chatham for her daughter to see Mary Baldwin. Caroline's elder son graduated this year from the U. of Va. Law School. He married a Longwood girl. Her younger son is in high school. Last year she taught in kindergarten and next year will be in elementary school.

Nancy Hopkins Rylatt lives in England. Jean Hall Bass has "taught fifteen of the twenty-four years," lives in Courtland and has a son employed at Union Camp Corp., a daughter graduating from high school this year, and a son nine. Stella Harman Streshley is secretary at the Forest Hill Presbyterian Church in Richmond, and she and her husband, Richard, are quite active in all its activities. Although they have no children, they consider the 792 church members part of their family. Rebecca Jones Cary lives in Clarksville where her husband operates a jewelry store. Their home overlooks Buggs Island Lake. "Trying to keep up with two teen-age girls and two pre-school boys really keeps me busy."

Polly Keller St. Clair lives in Louisville, Ky. with her psychiatrist husband and three children. Larry is finishing his freshman year at Harvard and has been made a Harvard scholar. Sheldon is 14 and plays in a band, the "Tweeds"; and they have a first grader, Carroll. Polly is enrolled in graduate school studying library science.

Virginia Morris Jones lives in Rice—says she just can't get away from Farmville. Her sons, Billy, 11, and Bobby, 7 are enrolled in Prince Edward Academy. She and her husband run a dairy, and she is quite active in church activities and DAR. Julia Ellen Smith Barum has two daughters, Mildred, 16 and Anne, 13, who also attend Prince Edward Academy. Julia is active in the Eastern Star. Mary Charlotte Jones Corson is teaching second grade in Newport News and has a new home there.

Dorothy Lawrence Riddle is "loafing along, enjoying my leisure since Linda is a freshman at Madison College." Jim has bought a partnership in his business, and they have had some enjoyable trips abroad. Ellen Royall Story stays actively engaged in all kinds of extracurricular services in Suffolk. Her daughter is at RMWC in Lynchburg. Lillian Wahab is as beautiful as ever and not a day older looking.

Evelyn Pankey McCorkle has her own school, Honeysuckle Hill School. Her husband, Bill, is vice-president and cashier of the Rockbridge National Bank. Bill, Jr. is 15, and they are all active in many church and civic affairs. The McCorkles bought the old McCorkle homestead and plan to restore it and to be the fifth generation to live there. Evelyn sees Caroline Ferguson Irons often. She and her surgeon husband have 3 children. Mary Elizabeth "Sunshine" McCormick Leary has three grown children. Sarah Chambers Marshall is in Thibodaux, La. but comes to Clifton Forge for a visit each summer with her 3 children.

Virginia Dawley Capron, her husband, and son John, 14, live in Winona, Minn. where her husband is a professor at Winona State College. They spend their free time houseboating on the Mississippi. Mary Hunter Edmunds Gunn is librarian at the Harrisonburg High School. She has 3 children. She went to Colorado Springs last year with a group of educators and ran into Cottie Radspinner Snow, her former roommate. They had a grand time reminiscing after 20 odd years.

Dot Johnson Watson is in Camden, S. C., does substitute teaching and is active in garden club and church work. She has 4 outstanding children, who are walking away with all the honors in school. Her husband is senior supervisor with Du Pont, and is active in Boy Scouts and Lions Club. She sees Mary Prince Arnold Munt who also lives in Camden. Rachel Burroughs Hall runs a potato farm and pony farm in Hallwood with her husband and three children. Rachel Anne, 18, will enter Longwood in the fall, and there are two boys, 15 and 10. She frequently sees Lucille Hall Tatem and La Reine Thornton Powell, both of whom teach in Pocomoke City, Md. Helen Hawkins Schaeffer lives in Fla. and corresponds with her at Christmas.

Elizabeth Ann Parker Stokes has been Supervisor of Art Education in the Portsmouth City Schools for the past five years. Her osteopath husband and son Parker, 17, and daughter, Cindi, 14, lead a full and exciting life. Miriam Hanvey Smith is a supervisor in Pupil Personnel Services in Portsmouth. For the past three years she has been using her psychological training as a visiting teacher. Gerry Ackiss Coats and husband Wen and 3 boys: Buddy, 17; Bobby, 13; and Dicky, 7 are in the Foreign Service, stationed at the present time in London. Kitty Moffitt Walters teaches second grade in Greensboro, N. C. and is a member of Alpha Delta Kappa, honorary sorority for teachers.

The nicest thing that has happened to me lately is a listing in the 4th edition of "Who's Who Among American Women." How or why I don't know.

Let's all make a concerted effort to be in Farmville for our 25th reunion. We'll have pictures from '42 and '52; let's get some in '67! See you March 17 and 18.

President and Acting Secretary:
Betty Bourchard,
(Mrs. S. C. MacIntire, III),

Stone Mt., Georgia

Betty Youngberg Ottesen—first time since 1943 and she hasn't been idle. She is now the Supervisor of Instructional Materials and in charge of and co-ordinates the textbook operation for the city of Cincinnati. In June, 1965, while attending the graduation of her son, Eric, from Princeton, she met Marie Eason Reveley '40 whose son was in the same class. Eric begins medical school at Harvard this year while her daughter Kristie is finishing her sophomore year at Indiana U. Al (better known at Farmville as Sonny) has his own business and he and Betty planned a summer trip to the Scandinavian countries. Jerry Smith Shawen and her husband were in Hong Kong last summer. They had been in Hawaii to meet their new granddaughter. Touring the same part of the world were Barbara Tripp Friend and her husband. Les is in the import business in San Diego and Bobbie said it was a life-long ambition to go to Hong Kong, Tokyo, and Hawaii and she wasn't disappointed. Bobbie's daughter, Debbie, will be teaching English in San Diego this year. Jean Carr wasn't abroad in her travels but did get to Canada last summer, and planned a return trip this year to Pa.

Joice Stokes Duffy was wonderful sending news from Portsmouth where she teaches. The Duffy and the Agricola families (Anne Moore) went to New York for the Fair. Peggy Lou Boyette Spence lives in Portsmouth and teaches in Churchland and has a son at East Carolina and a daughter in high school. Anne Williams Brooks has three sons. Margaret Finney Powell is living in Baltimore. Barbara Drewry Grace works in one of the Portsmouth schools and has a daughter at Goucher College.

Frances Purham Jeanes' oldest son, Ike, finished his freshman year at Dickinson College in Pa. and oldest daughter, Fran, enters the U. of S. C. I keep saying we're not old enough to have children this old, but—Agnes Patterson Kelly's son, Wise, enters W. & L. while Meridith is attending St. Catherine's. If you are losing your mind with one or two teenagers in your house, you might find this unbelievable; Dot Childress Hill has five. In fact, she is teaching 3rd and 4th grades in a private school. May Barlett Straughan and her family visited the Hills.

This should make you feel not so old. The Cieske family (Susie Moore) has a new little daughter, Susan. Martin, the oldest of Susie's family made All-star center in the Coastal Plains Conference and will enter N. C. State this fall. At Christmas, Susie writes all that has happened during the year and sends it rather than Christmas Cards. Speaking of graduations, Lilly Bec Gray Zehmer's youngest graduated from "play school." Last fall, while Dearing Fauntleroy Johnson was visiting Anne Rogers Stark, they had an opportunity to visit Elsie Smith Casterline (dip. '42) in Williamsburg. They also went to see Lucy Davis Gunn's enterprise there called "The Toymaker Shop."

Louise Parcell Watts received her Master of Special Education from U. Va. and is teaching the educable mentally retarded. Louise's older daughter, Diane, is a student at U. of N. C. in Greensboro. Betty Laird Dixon teaches at Stonewall Jackson Jr. High in Roanoke. The Kossen Gregorays (Sarah Massie Goode) toured Europe this year.

Frances Quillen Reid taught in North Miami, Fla. for seven years. In '64 she received her Master's in Math. at the U. of N. C. Her son, Mike, is a senior in high school in Bristol. Nell Pritchett Gordon is living in Arlington where her husband is principal of two elementary schools. Ada Claire Snyder Snyder is chairman of the History Dept. at Marstellar Jr. High in Manassas. The Snyders are still winning bridge tournaments. Ada Claire took her niece to look over Longwood and was real impressed. Longwood looked so beautiful with the new buildings, luxurious Rotunda, and the well-kept grounds and buildings.

Sarah Wade Owen is a guidance counselor at Newport News High School and attended a three-day conference in Roanoke. Ann Lyons was present at the same conference. Shirley Turner Van Landingham is substituting in high school in Petersburg. Cynthia James Riddick is in Turkey. Anne Ellet Hardy is teaching science in a private school in Amelia. Their three children have wide and diversified interests—Olin in horse show, Meridith in piano and organ lessons, and Mike in athletics.

Ella Marsh Pilkington Adams is probably the most traveled member of our class. Last summer, they were in Nevada; in November, they were in Spain; and in Dec. they were off to Jamaica, and in January, it was the Bahamas!

It was quite a reunion! Forty of us attended and everyone looked simply marvelous. I am sure no one could possibly have guessed it had been twenty years since we graduated! How we missed those of you who were unable to be with us.

The following attended: Shirley Cruser White, Lillian Elliott Bondurant, Peggy T. Ross Byrd, Jackie Ritchie Perry, Margie Pierce Harrison, Minnie Lee Crumpler Burger, Jackie Parden Kilby, Virginia Shackelford McIntyre, Anne Summers Lumpkin, Margaret Harvie Cardwell, Maggie McIntyre Davis, Mary Virginia Walker March, Margie Hewlett Moore, Virginia Lee Price Perrow, Mary Spradlin, Lois Lloyd Sheppard Lewis, Evelyn Pierce Maddox, Nannie Sours McKeever and husband; Virginia Treacle Marshburn, Katherine Allen Maugans and husband; Frankie Bell, Lucille Bell Barnes, Julie Messick Hurt, husband and two children; Rebecca Norfleet Meyer, Rosalie Jones Glascock, Ruth Fleming Scott and husband (who also graduated from Longwood); Carolyn Bobbitt Jones, Jane Paulette Taylor, Martha Holman LeSturgeon, Mary Ellen Petty Chapman, Phyllis Watts Harriss, Minnie Rose Hautborne Lyle, Libby Mountcastle Lyle, Lucie McKenry Baldi, "Dottie" Overcash, Glenn Ann Patterson Marsh, Ann Martin Kinsey, Betty Woodward, Lorene Thomas Clarke and I.

We were disappointed that Bessy and Frances Lee Stoneburner could not be with us. Bessy was sick and Frances was attending Parents' Day at Salem College where her daughter "Mopsy" was a freshman and Chairman of Parents' Day Festivities.

Most everyone registered at the Weyanoke Hotel except Shirley, Margie Harrison, Jackie

We never hear from as many of our class as we'd like to! But a wonderful letter came from Perry, Jackie Kilby and Peggy T., who stayed with Lillian in Rice. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed Friday evening at "Our Miss Burger's", the Coffee Hour at the Alumnae House Saturday morning, and the delicious luncheon for which Mrs. David Jackson and Mr. Jackson joined us in the Senior Dining Hall. We were delighted to have the opportunity to meet our new College President, Dr. James H. Newman. Following the luncheon, there was a class meeting during which I was elected Secretary and it was agreed that we would all come back for our 25th Reunion. So start making plans!

Peggy Ross Byrd's husband, Paul, was transferred from Stamford, Conn., to Marion, Va., in February. They have a son Randy, 11, and daughter Meg, 15. Margie and "Chap" Harrison vacationed in Florida in the spring. Minnie Lee Crumpler Burger is teaching at Commonwealth Business College in Richmond. Jackie Parden Kilby and Claude had a marvelous time on their cruise to Nassau last spring.

Ginny Shackelford McIntyre's 15-yr.-old daughter was recently elected Secretary of the Student Body in high school. Ginny sees Bev Peebles Kelly every summer. Bev was unable to attend our reunion because of a trip planned with her family.

Nannie Sours McKeever has a daughter attending Longwood! Virginia Treacle Marshburn is teaching in Hyattsville, Md. Margie Hewlett Moore and Mary Va. Walker March, both in Suffolk, see each other often. Virginia Price Perrow, River Edge, N. J., visits Nancy Broughman Terry in Richmond almost every summer.

Lillian Elliott Bondurant and Mary Ellen Petty Chapman are teaching at Prince Edward Academy in Farmville. Martha Holman LeSturgeon works at the Longwood College Library. Minnie Rose Hawthorne Lyle is busy with her family of husband, three children, and teaching. Betty Woodward has an interesting job in Foreign Service with the State Dept. in Washington. Ann Martin Kinsey and family are enjoying their new home in Fairfax. "Dottie" Overcash is teaching in Winchester.

"Kim" Kimmerling Starkey's husband is at the U. of Wis. to work on his Master's in Public Relations. Their son, Patrick, is 2 and Leigh, their daughter, is 12. Ruby Keeton, Victoria, has retired from teaching. Mary Ellen Bailey, Supervisor of Elementary Schools in Rockbridge County, was seriously injured in an automobile accident in April. Her mother wrote that she was recuperating nicely. Jean Kent Dillon is business manager of Wickline Chevrolet Corp. in Rocky Mount. Her husband is a partner in the Mount Furniture Co.

Evelyn Grizzard Graybeal and Paul enjoyed a trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and St. Croix in the Virgin Islands in March. Their two children will be 9th and 10th graders this fall. "Madie's" husband, Durwood, passed away two years ago. Martha Watkins Mergler, Park Forest, Ill., substitutes in grades 1-8. Nancy Courter Bradshaw and Julian have two children, Betty and Courter. Nell Morrison Buck, Farmville, is enjoying retirement.

"Boots" Bralley del Cardayre and family live in Hylas. John Sidney, the oldest of three boys, starts to kindergarten at St. Christopher's in Richmond this fall. Mary Anne Loving Arbo and Paul live in Norfolk where he is a Captain in the Navy, on the Second Fleet Staff. They have two children—Mindy, 15, and Kit, 13.

Frances Lee Stoneburner is doing an outstanding job as President of the Richmond Chapter of Longwood Alumnae Assn. Frank was in London, England, and Glasgow, Scotland, for 2 months in the spring on business for Reynolds Metals Co. Frances had planned to join him for three weeks, but was unable to do so due to the illness of her mother.

Dorothy Davis Holland is principal of Huff Lane School in Roanoke. Luverta Joyner Gumkowski's older son entered the Naval Academy in June. Luverta plans to return to school this fall to work on her M.A. Degree. "Vicky" Edmunds Scott's son Ken enters the U. of Va. in Sept. Her daughter Patsy has one more year in Jr. High. "Vicky" is President of the Panhellenic Assn. in Norfolk. Anne Carmine Ransdell, husband Charles and 5 yr. old daughter Marie have recently moved into their new home in Bon Air. Charles is with the Southwestern Life Ins. Co. and Anne is an accountant with Cliff Weil, Inc.

Sister Maria Jude (Regina Portinaro) is Principal of Cathedral High School in Richmond. Novella Hunt Moore and family are enjoying their new home in Poquoson. She has six children: William 20; Charles and Curtis, 18-yr. old twins; Richard, 13; Ellen, 11; and Barbara, 9.

Am delighted to report that Bessy, our class president, is fine. She was really disappointed that she was unable to attend our reunion.

We were distressed to learn of the death of Mildred Altice last Feb. The Winston-Salem Dance Forum in which Mildred was an active participant gave a book to our college Library in her memory.

There is not much news with the Soyars. Carl is still in the real estate business and I am a secretary with the State Corp. Commission. Thanks for your wonderful letters. Shall be looking forward to hearing from you next year.

My hearty thanks to eleven of my classmates who helped compile the class news this year. We tried to contact each member so that all would know that our class will be having its 20th reunion next March in Farmville. However, there are 19 girls whose addresses are unknown, and we would like for any of you who might know of the whereabouts of the following girls to please send this information to the Alumnae Office: Grace Anderson, Patricia Carter Daniel, Thelma Diggs Johnson, Lorena Evans Jefferson, Gene Harrison Knoop, Carmen Low Glover, Mary Evelyn Mahanes Meschutt, Marguerite Porcet, Cile Sarier Helzer, Margaret Wilson Jones, Helen Rose Worrell, Helen Apperson Shefler, Pattie Buckler Hale, Cathryn Greger Austin, Marian Crouch Dickinson, Ellen Moore Turner, Cora Redd Hoopes, Lynn Sprye Cavedo, and Mary Jane Vonderlehr Paul.

News came from Ann Johnson Thomas of Walla Walla, Wash. She and her young daughter spent last June and July in Va. While here she saw her roommate Patsy Dale Barham, who helped with this letter. She is president of her PTA, active in church work, and other community services. Joe Bailey Jones helped gather the news in spite of the fact that the very day she mailed her letters, her sister Ellen '46 was seriously injured in an automobile accident. Jo is still "queen bee" in her domain after the birth of their third son last August. She is continuing her studies through the Home Study Department of U. Va.

Buddy and Bea Bruch Wilson and 4 children are building in Leesburg after having lived in Fairfax for 9 years. Buddy is in business for himself now—Loudon Engineering and Surveys, and Bea works in his office once a week! Robin Lear Peacock wrote from Goldsboro, N. C. Christy, the eldest of their five children is at the U. of N. C. in Greensboro this fall after having toured Europe last summer. She was chosen a princess at the Azalea Festival in Wilmington this year. Bobby is at St. Andrew's School in Middletown, Del. John, Billy and Sarah are in grade school. Robin has been a case worker in the Child Welfare Dept. for the past year. From Chattanooga, Tenn., after 13 years in a matriarchal society Kitty Kearsley Williams finds herself dethroned by a darling 2-year-old called Kitten. Her two sons are interested in sports; and husband Jesse will open his office in Urology in August after being in group practice for 8 years. Kitty is working to finish a course in flower show judging.

Betty Keiser Ward found time to write even with a son who had broken both bones in an arm while pole vaulting the night before! She teaches in Lancaster High School in Kilmarnock, and her husband teaches physical ed and coaches all four sports there. Her two sons and two daughters are naturally interested in athletics and sports.

Betty Deuel Cock Elam's eldest daughter will enter Maryville College at Maryville, Tenn., primarily because it has a marching band. Daughter, Anne Deuel, was a Nat. Merit Scholarship Finalist and has won many honors in band in junior and senior high school. Betsy, Barbara, and Judy are all Girl Scouts and Betty Deuel is leader of a junior troop. Husband Ned is a vestryman at St. Paul's Episcopal Church where all four girls have been confirmed. Betty O'Connor Newlander recommends to us the wonderful "Land of Enchantment," New Mexico. Her oldest son is a freshman at New Mexico State U., majoring in physics on a scholarship. Second son, Alan, is in the 9th grade, and the youngest son is Mark, who is in 5th grade. For the past three years Betty has been the head librarian at Mark's school. Last fall Betty and family had a little Navajo girl from the U. S. Govt. Indian School to come spend weekends with them.

Shirley Mankin Nelson is retiring from her bank work in Richmond. Sue McCorkle Kincaid and her 5 children found Leesburg getting too crowded for them with Dulles Airport so close, so 3 years ago she and Joe bought a farm "down the Valley" at Mount Jackson. "Ducky" Anderson Justis is teaching science at Middlethian High School and attended summer school at Longwood to renew her teaching certificate. Marian Arant Gordon is living in Roanoke and currently teaching in Botetourt County. Class president Margaret Ellett Anderson contacted the girls who live in the Roanoke area and found Alma Crawley still working as a lab technician at the Roanoke Memorial Rehabilitation Center. Beverly Bobon Collins is historian for the Roanoke Fine Arts Center and is leader for 28 Girl Scouts. Margaret is president of the Roanoke Alumnae Chapter and hopes to see many of you girls back in Farmville for our reunion. Martha Russell East Miller and her family are enjoying Roanoke where Wentz is Executive Secretary of Montgomery Presbytery and works with 70 churches. Their 2 boys attended Patrick Henry High, and Martha Russell is director of the Weekday Kindergarten for First Presbyterian Church.

Lillian Stables Wise, Dillwyn, has attended night classes at Longwood to work on her master's degree. Her husband operates the farm and works part time for Soil Conservation Services. They have a 6-yr.-old girl and a 4-yr.-old boy, and Lillian plans to return to teaching after both enter school.

Betty Davey Brown lives in Martinsville where her husband is Director of Public Works and she has taught private kindergarten for 8 years. They have two teenagers—Carol, 16, and Michael, 13. Betty is taking art at their local Patrick Henry College. Sally Royston Rives retired last year after having taught for 34 years. The faculty of Baldwin Elementary School gave her a lovely silver bowl and candlesticks. She now spends her time at McKenny taking care of her invalid mother. Dorothy Blair attended summer school at Indiana U. and is Reading Coordinator at Hargrave Military Academy in Chatham. Nola Brisentine Squier is moving to Decatur, Ga., in June where her husband has been transferred. Maria Adde-man Hurt is a fulltime homemaker with their son, J. B. Her husband, Ben, has been principal of Albemarle High School for the past 12 years. Barbara Kellam Grubbs is in Alexandria where her Army lieutenant-colonel husband is serving a four-year tour of duty. Their two boys are now 10 and 12 yrs. old. Barbara saw Lucile Upshur Mapp last summer and Cab Overby Field not too long ago and wrote that after 20 years they each recognized each other immediately.

Christine Shiflet Maxey hears from Julia Braga Shinner who lives in Lima, Peru with her 3 boys who speak 4 or 5 different languages. Julia's husband is manager of a shipping line and they have lived in various places but are enchanted with Lima. Christine has two tall teenage sons and an 11-yr.-old daughter who has been "Miss Buckingham." Chris helps solicit for all the drives, has the G. A.'s in her church, is an officer in the W.M.U., Home Demonstration Club, Southern States, Farm Bureau, etc. Claudine Guthrie Bryant, in Richmond, said that her banker husband will return to Ohio State U. to complete a course in August while she and her two children visit grandparents.

Here's hoping to see many of you in Farmville next March. I understand that our class advisor, Miss Iler, will be there to greet you, too.

A grand surprise this spring was Anne Homes Bussells' announcement of her marriage to Clifford Bussells, Jr. on January 22d. Anne wrote, "I not only got a husband but also an adorable five-year-old boy." The Bussells live in Richmond.

Mitty Hahn Sledd, Hunter, and all five boys were scheduled to fly from Baltimore to San Juan, and she said because of the boys, it would be an even more exciting trip than the one she and Hunter made to Hawaii. The Sledd children are all in school this fall—from first grade through high school senior. Marjorie Burns is completing her Master of Science in Guidance at Louisiana State U. this summer and writes of her work in food science research and the campus life of Baton Rouge during her year's leave of absence from teaching science in Shreveport.

Betty Burchett Almarode saw Ann Galloway Reddish '49 at a golf tournament in Moultrie, Ga.; attended the State Hotel Convention at Sarasota, and wrote about the Almarodes' summer vacation in Va. when they would be taken on an historical tour conducted by Jane Burchett Womack. In last year's letter I should have reported that Jane and Forrest spent the summer of '64 remodeling an old house in Suffolk and moved in that August.

The suite-across-the-hall is represented this year with a letter from Peggy Moore Womble, who saw Edith Duffy White in Norfolk at Christmas, spent a week-end in May with Virginia Tindall Schilder in McLean, and the Schilders and Wombles plan to have a week's vacation together at Mountain Lake in July. The Wombles have three boys and a girl. Martha Stringfield Newman, Tom, and their children, Steven, 2, and Susan, 5, live in Aylett. She wishes Agnes Taylor would send news for the magazine.

June Clark Wood and her husband, Earl, moved to Winchester in July '64. Earl is a U. S. Government mathematician. Their son is in first grade and their daughter in kindergarten. Gee Gee Yonce Gates' letter followed her trip to Farmville where her husband, Ernest, participated in the commencement processional as Longwood's Vice-Rector. The Gates have four boys and two girls. Gee Gee is president of the Women of the Church, and a member of the Garden Club. July 1st Ernest assumed his new responsibilities as Circuit Court Judge of Chesterfield County. Gee Gee sees Joyce Hill Goodloe daily. The Goodloes have moved to a new house and have four children.

Betty Jean Snapp Fawcett and family have a new home near Winchester. Betty Jean teaches English and Social Studies at the junior high there. The Fawcett children are 10 and 12 and are active Scouts. Frances Treakle Rountree's life is busy with the activities of her two boys, 8 and 11, and a girl, 3. Jane Short Looney lives near Frances and has a little girl, three.

Hope Frank moved in the fall of '64 to Cleveland, Tenn. where she is head of Home Service Dept. of Magic Chef. She travels, has a large house, a variety of challenging responsibilities in her work, and opportunities to enjoy the water sports at the nearby TVA lakes. Last winter during the season's worst snow storm, Jean Babb Blackwell and Price were stranded overnight in Lexington. They were en route home, Crawfordsville, Ind., from a business trip in Ga., and we talked so long I was almost stranded at their motel! Jean looked as lovely as the last time I saw her—at her wedding in '50.

Estaline Anderson McCraw plans to teach in Appomattox this fall. Her three children are all in school, Ann, a beginner, David, junior high, and Mary Louise a fifth grader. "Teen" substituted last year in the school where Nancy Taylor Chambers teaches general science.

Betty Renn Walton had just completed the transfer of the county records dating from 1749 to the new County Office Building in Cartersville when her letter arrived. She and Coffman have enlarged their farm and Betty has had two long hospitalizations during the year—so the year has been a memorable one for them. Nancy Hughes Robinson and Jack have a travel trailer and will vacation with their two girls in New England. Nancy is chalking up credits toward a Master's degree and is teaching again in Mullens, W. Va. Brief messages came at Christmas from Hilda Abernathy Jackson in Newport News, Mary Ann Morris Slaughter in Miami, and Nancy Squire Poplar in Havre de Grace, Md.

Martha Anderson Rollings is teaching English and Spanish in Waverly High School, sponsors the senior class, the year-book, and forensic activities. This summer she will attend an NDEA Institute in Composition and Linguistics at Wm. & Mary. Because my letter was so late arriving in the Alumnae Office last year, the notice of June Poole Canning's death on January 12, 1965 was omitted from In Memoriam. Her husband, Harold Canning, wrote that she died of leukemia.

In two years we will be celebrating our twentieth reunion. In the meantime, keep the class letter in mind and write to your secretary when spring comes around. My resignation to "Peepsie" accompanies this letter, but I will forward your communications if you send them to me. I have enjoyed these four years as "acting secretary." This past May I became head of the Acquisitions Dept. of the U. of Kentucky Libraries. Thank you, each and all, for your wonderful letters.

Most of this news is a result of a party when Gwen Cress Tibbs was across the street from me here in Richmond taking a course in Kindergarten teaching at Presbyterian School of Christian Education. Gwen plans to teach in a church kindergarten in Covington, Ky. this fall and her youngest child will be one of her students. Taking the same course was Martha Russell East Miller '47 who is starting a kindergarten in Roanoke. Wentz and Martha Russell bought their home there from Betty Jane Brockway Low and they often see each other. Martha Russell has two teenage boys. Betty Jane and her family are in a new home. Her boys are 9 and 11 and a little girl, 5, is named for Sarah Rawles Norfleet. Jennie Lee Cross Kalie of Laurel, Md., is teaching again after an operation. Adding to the chatter of the evening were Dot Daniel Townsend, Frances Farley Berkebile, Laura Jean Comerford Chumney, Ann East Watkins and Anne Simpson Alston. Ann East is having a busy time with two little boys, 4 and 1. She goes to Bon Air Presbyterian Church and is a neighbor of Cab Overby Goodman '50 and sees Virginia Westbrook Goggin '51 often. Anne Simpson has a new baby, Susan, and 3 other children. She and Clarence went to Williamsburg with all four of them for a bankers' meeting. Laura Jean's husband is now Vice President of the Bank of Va. in Richmond in charge of public relations and marketing research. Their children are Kevin, 14; Karlee, 12, and Kendall, 8. Dot Daniel Townsend has five grandchildren. She is teaching and was delighted to have a student teacher from Longwood last spring. She enjoyed seeing Anne Orgain Smith when she substituted at Munford School. Anne has 3 children. Dot said Mary Frances Hundley Abbitt may return to teaching. Doris Lanier Cocke has her home and is teaching Home Ec. in Hurt. Esther Goffigan Maxey has a boy and girl, lives in Hopewell and does some teaching.

Frances Farley Berkebile and Dave are rearing 6 daughters! Elaine-17, Denise-16, Jan-15, Maureen-13, Cecil-11, and Ann-3. Dave recently bought "Lawyers Printing Co." in Richmond and Frances works with him one day a week. She sees Connie Loving Horden often. She and Hal live in Norfolk where he practices medicine. They have Mary Kimball-3, and James Todd-1. Harriet Steel Wills and Curtis have two children and are living on Curtis' family farm near Suffolk. They have horses and enjoy harness racing. Frances also sees "Dee Dee" Sladd Rogers each year at the family reunion at "Dee Dee's" parents' home "Mount Sterling". They, along with "Mitty" Hahn Sladd '48, enjoy catching up on Longwood news. Joan Hahn Shackelford is busy in Ashboro, N. C. with four children, a new home, and a doctor husband who has just finished a year of commuting 127 miles a day to Duke U. where he completed some specialized training.

Mary Ann Adams Minnick, Jeanne Ellett Guza, Gwen Cress Tibbs and Frances had a hugging, talking, picture-showing, 3-hour luncheon in June in Richmond. They were freshman roommates and all from Lynchburg and together for the first time in over 15 years! Mary Ann's husband, C. P., is minister of Westhampton Methodist Church here. They have 2 boys and 2 girls; the oldest will finish high school next year and the youngest is kindergarten age. Before coming to Richmond, C. P. taught at Ferrum Junior College and was pastor there. Jeanne Ellett lives in Richmond and is busy with the activities of three teenage boys. Frances sees Betty Curlee Riley occasionally. Dabney is with Reynolds Metals.

Betty Spindler Scott missed our gathering. Her husband, Fred, is a real estate developer and ornithologist. They have Elizabeth-11, Granville-9, Susan-7, Mary-5, and Tom-2. Betty finds time to do Junior League work.

Dalila Agostini Ament enclosed a picture of her children, Eric-10, Kurt-8 and Laura-7. They are ready to leave Chicago where Ed has been working on his doctorate and Dalila teaching. "At this moment we are preparing to go to Germany where Ed will write his doctoral dissertation. The children will attend German schools, and Ed will do research at the U. of Marburg. Don't know where we will settle after the year in Europe . . . hope it's closer east so I can soon visit my Alma Mater which I haven't since graduation."

Heard from Lee Staples Lambert in Memphis at Christmas and had a note from Violet this spring. Visited Jackie Watson Dudley one afternoon. She is substitute teaching. George and Mary Lawless Cooper, Tampa, Fla., are the proud parents of a baby daughter, Connie Matthews, born Oct. 29, 1965. Their other two girls are teenagers.

Looked out of my window last summer and saw Wilma Allen Speight and her little son relaxing in the courtyard. Her husband was with her at Seminary studying for two weeks. Charles is pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Stuarts Draft.

I am working for the Director of Continuing Education. Dick is student pastor of a little church in Hanover county this summer and will resume his classes in the fall. Please let me hear from each one of you and I will pass the letters on to the one who volunteers to write this letter next year.

Alumnae Secretary:
Carol Bird Stoops,
(Mrs. E. G. Droessler),
1383 Regent St.,
Schenectady, N. Y. 12309

In July the Droesslers will move to Schenectady, N. Y. Earl has accepted a position as Vice President of the State U. of N. Y. at Albany where he will direct all scientific research on this large campus. Carol Joan will continue her classes at Madison College as a Home Economics major.

Suzie Bowie Brooks wrote that Tyler is president of his class in high school. Charles is in 7th grade, and both girls go to the Academy in Williamsburg. Barbara Sours and Norma Roady received their Master's Degrees in Education from U. Va. last summer. "B. S." teaches Jr. High Music in Danville, and Roady is in her fourth year in Physical Ed. Dept. at Averett College, where Betty Jefferson '49 is secretary to the President. Troxie Harding has completely redecorated her house in Fork Union. They bought camping equipment and visited Atlantic City and the World's Fair in N. Y. Her husband, Ellis, is President of the Lions Club. Chip is on the student council, and captain of the JV football team. Mike is president of the elementary school student council. Troxie saw Gris Baxley Cousins '49 in Gordonsville at the Labor Day Parade. Miss Jessie Patterson lives in Columbus, Ohio and is visited by many Longwood faculty folks. Juanita Weeks Handy is active in the Women's Missionary Circle in San Jose, Calif. Virginia is in third grade and John in first grade, and Susan is 3. Norm had a six-weeks National Science Foundation Fellowship at Wake Forest College in N. C. Puckett Asher wrote from Philadelphia that their Alumnae group entertained Liz Shipplett Jones '38, national secretary, at their spring luncheon.

Cards came from Jane Williams Chambliss in Texas and from Shorty Long Eddy in Southern Pines, N. C. Harriett Ratchford Schach has moved to an old Baltimore home of French Norman design. Jane Richards Markuson sent reunion pictures and a picture of her three boys. Betty Lewis Shank Eubank sent a picture of her twins and says that their daughter, Carol, loves Longwood. Carrie Ann O'Loughlin spent the summer on a restful bay in Maine.

"OOT" Newell Phillips and family have completed the dock with diving board, etc. at their Chickahominy cottage. Son, Peyton, is in 6th grade. They all went to the National Horse Show in Harrisburg, Pa. Dolores Duncan Smallwood and Lester are in Fargo, N. D. Katie Bondurant Carpenter has been traveling with Jim now that their children are older. Katie is finance chairman for the League of Women Voters. Pat Davis Gray has a new house in Newport, R. I., where Basil is busy with school. Shirley Hillstead Lorraine's daughter, Catherine, is a varsity cheerleader at Freeman High in Richmond. Beth, in 8th grade, was chosen Snow Queen at the class dance. Martha is 11, and Kemp, 10. Jean Hobbs Alton has lived in Endicott, N. Y., for 6 years. Her husband, Tom, works on the Gemini program with IBM. Janice Slavin Hagan is on the PTA Board. Jim is 8 and Diane is in 7th grade. "Cansie" Rippon Carignan and children plan to live near Tampa, Fla., while Bob is in Viet Nam. Pat Paddison Evans and family live in Atlanta where Carroll works for Armour. Hilda Edwards Tall writes from Carmel, Calif., that Charlie studies constantly. She is a Den mother; young Charlie is in 4th grade, and they enjoyed a trip to Disneyland.

Christmas cards came from Jacky Eagle, Anne Forman Tate, "Eccie" Rippon Ayres, Patsy Ritter Jack, Tootie Buck Muse, Nancy Lee Maddox Carrington, Peggy White Crooks, Ruth Walker McGhee and Stuart, and a handmade card from Cab Overby Goodman, Joe, Anne and "Little Eleanor." Jane Hunt Ghiselin Lindley wrote from Indiana that Bobby is in the first grade, Ann is 8, and David was born shortly after our reunion. She lives near the Chicago Airport; plans to join us in 1970 and suggested that I look around for a suitable trophy for the "Bird with the Longest Wings!"

Ann Nock Flanigan's Christmas card pictured Jimmy, 1, Mike, 3, Patrick, 5, Peggy, 6, and Patty, 8 in their red night clothes. Ann is godmother for our Maureen.

I see Sallie Land Anderson now and then. Lizzie Bragg Crafts and family live in this area now and she is active in our local Alumnae group. Robb Cromar Rilee called when in town on a business trip with her husband. Majorie Boswick Michael was on her way to Europe at the time of our reunion. They had a week in Paris, a bird's-eye view of London, Rome, Geneva, the Alps, etc. Then on to Athens, Greece, where Billy presented a paper on Selenodesy to an International Geodesy Symposium. They have built a new home in Newport News on the James River.

Charlotte Flaughner Eddy, Bill, and the children had several skiing weekends this year and the family went to Puerto Rico for the Easter holidays. Sister John Therese (Mary Jean Miller) attended our fall Alumnae meeting with B. Hylton, who works at the National Institute of Health.

Lelia Mae Ferratt Leggett called when she came to visit her brother who lives here. Lelia Mae heard that Betty House Higgenbotham lives in Orange and has 2 boys and 3 girls. Eday Brooks Wamsley's husband, Jake, spoke at our Washington area spring luncheon. Patsy Bird Kimbrough Pettus spent a weekend with us when she came up to see the Washington Art Museums.

Do you ever wonder why I never mention your name? Try dropping me a few lines in the next few months and see what happens!!!

The big thing for our class this year was our fifteenth reunion! It's hard to believe we've been "on our own" for this long, but for those of you who missed the festivities, let me say that you would not have failed to recognize anyone. I don't even think there's a grey hair in the group! Really, everyone looked great and it was wonderful to see all the familiar faces.

Twenty-three of our class were present for the alumnae luncheon on Saturday. Mary Crowder White, Dot Dunford, Betty McRee Hodges, Helen Connelly Button, Harriet Butterworth Miller, and Max Acree Cumbia; Betsy Gravely, Ann Lynch Millner, Georgia Baily Mason Frances Minter Whyte, Peg Peery Yost, Iris Sutphin Wall, Margaret Milroy Robertson, Charlotte King Jones Greenbaum, Nancye Gillie Shelton, Frances Creger Thompson, Helen Smith Massie, Berman Scott, Andy Adams John and Betty Jones Klepser, Elsie Hawley Burkholder, Frances Everett Brown, and Frances Harper Powell.

Now we can all look forward to the 20th get-together. Next time I hope we will decide in advance which night to spend in Farmville so that we can see more of each other. We missed all of you who were not there. Please think about it and plan to be there for the 20th.

I heard from Jean Carter Watkins Saunders who lives in Emporia. Jean is busy with choir and Scouting. I missed a visit with Virginia Westbrook Goggins when she was in this area for a State Division meeting of the Council of Exceptional Children. However, Carol Stoops Droessler '50 and Lizzie Bragg Crafts '50 visited with her and said she was enjoying her work. "Westbrook" is going to Charlottesville several times a week taking classes toward her Master's Degree. Carol Stoops Droessler gave me news that Romine Mahood Overby and Billy are moving to Berryville where he will be associated with the State Department.

At Christmas my "old faithfuls" sent cards and I enjoyed the news they brought. Helen Agnew Koonce and Arnold added another little daughter to the family so they have three girls—Beth, Susan and Martha Ramsey. Peg Peery Yost and husband, John, have been running the PTA in Vinton. Though Ann Kemp DesPortes couldn't attend reunion she and Bill-Bill and the children did visit relatives in Richmond over the Christmas holidays. We talked with them from the home of Iris Sutphin Wall and Bill while at reunion. I think Iris and Bill would get a vote of thanks from us for letting us make their home our headquarters. They have two sons, Bid and Steve. Betty McRee Hodges and Ralph celebrated their 13th anniversary last December (65). Good news from Jeanne Farmer Maxwell. Look for it in the Births section of the bulletin.

At our Washington alumnae chapter tea last May, six members of the class of '51 were there: Andy Adams John, Frances Everett Brown, Elsie Hawley Burkholder, Jackie Moody McSherry, "Chick" Ritchie Oberlander, and Fran Harper Powell and Phil in Falls Church. The members of our class who are in the chapter here certainly have been loyal and have been always willing to help in any way.

Since it will be almost Christmas when you receive this, I wish each of you the very merriest of holidays and a happy 1967. Some of you who never write, do send a note or a card and let me know something about you.

Many thanks for all the newsy notes from so many of you. Everyone seems to be making plans already for our 15th reunion next March at Founders Day.

Camping is very popular for many of our families this year. Gladys Savedge Baker, Tom and the children will camp and visit friends in several Southern states. They have just moved to Wilmington, N. C. Anne Oakley Kellam, Tommy and two boys camped last summer. Mary Moore Karr Borkey, Walt and children camped in Va. on weekends. Maria Jackson Hall and I met Mary Brame Trotter for lunch when she was in Richmond with Ed for a CPA convention. We were with Mary and Ed at VPI homecomings in the new stadium. Mary is active in the Lynchburg Jr. Woman's Club. Maria and Virginius spent two weeks in Canada last summer. Emma Harris Allen, Mac and the two children vacationed at Willow Lake in the mountains. Emma is teaching at Mrs. Dixon's Nursery School in Richmond. Cindy Mims Lambert is working on the U. of Texas campus as editor of the Directory of Texas Manufacturers. She and her children: Lynne, 12, and Donald Lee, 8, toured Texas last summer.

We're so glad B. B. Wilson Thompsen, Bill, Billy, 9, and Beth, 7, are at Offutt AFB in Nebraska after living in Europe. They have visited May Henry Sadler Midgett at Va. Beach and Frances Thomas Pairet and Jackie Jardine Wall in Farmville. Bill Overbey, Romine '51, and Susan, 11, are living in Boyce as he is Director of Instruction for Clarke County. Mrs. Graham Trent Chappell and her husband are retired in Buckingham County. She participates in the Woman's Club, teaches the Adult Woman's Bible Class and is a life member of the PTA. Anne Moseley Akers put on her thinking cap last spring to take a U. Va. Extension class. She is busy with PTA, board meetings, and serves as treas. of the Roanoke Alumnae Chapter. Dolores Hoback Kanner and Al spent a week in Lexington, Ky., attended the races and toured Mammoth Cave Park. In April they took their four children to Destin, Fla. Hoey is a member of the Board of Directors for their West Side Businessmen's Aux., Sunday School teacher and occasionally gives a book review at her U. League group. May Henry Sadler Midgett served as President of Women of the Church, plus substitute teaching. Her son Richard, 10, won the Championship ribbon for his class in a horse show. She and A.B. met Maria and Virginius at Cyprus Chapel to help celebrate Becky Mann's marriage to Floyd Riddick Umphlett, Jr. They live in Whaleyville.

Jerry Korbach Hembree was active through her Norfolk Jr. Woman's Club in pushing for the Child Abuse Laws in the General Assembly. She is a real estate broker in her husband's company. Jerry's son Mark is 13, and Jeff is 9. Last fall her husband, Ray, won the singles and doubles in a tennis tournament in Williamsburg.

Jane Allen Hinman has been teaching in Amelia since 1953. Jane has served as soloist and pianist for her church and President of the WSCS. She is serving as the President of the Amelia Education Assoc. for the 3rd year.

We extend our sympathy to Sue Nelson Mathews whose third child lived only 11 hrs. Her husband is recovering from two heart attacks last year. She and Ed managed a week-end in Ocean City, Md. with Norma Gladding Godwin and Gene, and several golf tournaments in Md. Lois Ash Carr keeps a step ahead of her four children: Randall, 10; Kent, 6; Cynthia, 4; and Rachael, 2. Clements is with the Chesapeake Corp. and Lois is active in her church, PTA, Scouts, Jr. Woman's Club and Fund Drives. She was awarded a Heart Fund pin this year. I saw Mary Helen Cook Blair last spring. Last year she enjoyed teaching in a newly organized Day School for ages 3-6. Last summer Blair taught at Rappahannock High School. They are back at Fork Union Military Academy.

Many of our class are living in other states—Pat Tuggle Miller and Bill and 3 sons love Columbus, Ga. Bill is president of his Sunday School Class and Pat teaches a 6th grade group. Nancy Hounshell Brame, Bob, and Griff, 9, Andy, 8, and Karen, 4, have been living in Charlottesville while Bob was on a research fellowship in obstetrics but are now in Chapel Hill, N. C., as Bob is on the staff at UNC. Dot Fraber Garber and husband, Rudy, and children, Janet, 11, Chip, 8, Mike, 5, live in Sarasota, Fla. Rudy has his medical practice with Ann Kemp DesPortes' '51, husband. They saw Audrey Pettit Mesmer and Bill, who live outside Orlando. Mary Crawford Andrews and family stay busy with school, community and church activities in Geneva, Ind. They visited Billie Marie Wood Billings, '51, and Dick in Cleveland last Feb. and spent 2 weeks in Fla., in June. Pat Lee Mathews has been living in Chatham, N. J., New Orleans, and Chicago with husband Bob, two girls, 11 and 5 and a son 7. Marian Beckner Riggins and Bill spent a week skiing at Blue Knob near Bedford, Pa.

Several of the class gathered with their families in Farmville in Feb. to celebrate Miss Iler's birthday: Nell Dalton Smith from Colonial Heights; Nancy Walker Reams, Culpeper; Rachael Peters and Bootie Poarch, Annandale; Eleanor Weddle Bobbitt of Farmville, and Marian Beckner Riggins, Lynchburg. Eleanor studied at the U. of Md. summer school while husband Bob studied at Longwood. He is active in the Ruritan Club and is principal and teacher at Keysville Elementary School. She will be helping with plans for a class breakfast or other gathering for our 15th reunion next March! Ruth Lacy Smith talked to Lucy Jane Morton Pratt last spring. Lucy's husband is Director of the Staten Island Museum and has received a gov't grant to preserve the last undeveloped piece of land in New York City. Lucy Jane is painting again in oils. Ruth is chairman of the WSCS, chairman of district in the Cancer Drive, and also has a district office in her church. All the Appiches are looking toward two weeks at the river and a week in New York. I'll see you all at Founders Day.

Our last class news was a letter from "Charlie Hop" to the class of '53. Many of you have asked for his address in Fla. and I'm sure he would enjoy hearing from you. His address is: Mr. Raymond J. French, 1509 Dove Drive, Orlando, Florida, 32803.

Betty Abbott Holland is living in Aurora, Colo. She has son number three now. Dot Boswick Greenman was in Richmond for the Tobacco Bowl game. We were bumper to bumper in our cars shouting back and forth. Have you ever tried to get class news through the "soundwaves" of honking horns, cheers of victory, and police whistles? I didn't either. The word "Hampton" was loud and clear. That is where she is living with husband and three boys.

Mary Evelyn Bennett Arrington's oldest son is 10 now and she has twin boys who are 5 yrs. of age. Mary Evelyn has added English to her B. S. in Music Ed. and has been teaching at the Senior High school in Rocky Mount where she is head of the English dept.

Polly Brothers Simpson has really been a traveler since our last news—Ohio, Naperville, Chicago, and Gettysburg. Polly and Henry have two girls and a boy.

Nathalie Bryant Hall, Mary Boggs Noble, and I hold Alumnae meetings every other Tuesday at bridge. Joyce Gatling Ward is teaching kindergarten in Suffolk. Betsy Hankins McVey is still in Honolulu and gets to the Mainland at least once a year. Sarah McElroy Harvie is busy as ever with her singing and family.

Frances Howell Abernathy and Mac have one child, Lisa. Mac sells investment securities, and Frances is active in her garden club and church. Ann "Jonesie" Jones Gray, Helen Tanner, Margaret Steele Surphin, and I were the only members of the Class of '53 attending the Richmond Alumnae Luncheon at the Hermitage Country Club this spring. Margaret Steele Surphin, Ed, and two boys—Bill, 12, and David, 9—moved from Norfolk to Richmond last August. Margaret taught our Woman's Club art lessons this fall.

Jean Kreienbaum Zollman is in Fairfax and has one daughter. Harriet Byrd Minichan

Thomas, Hayes, two sons, and daughter have moved from Richmond to Charlotte, N. C. Since Chip is in kindergarten, Anne Murphy Morton is teaching. Buck is working as hard as ever.

Margaret Taylor Barlow and family are enjoying their life in the country. All of the children are in school now. Nancy is 11, Jo Anne 9, and Joseph is 6. Pat Taylor Jackson, husband "Smokie", son, "Smokie, Jr.", and a baby girl, Laura Beth (14 months), live in "Sleepy Lake" near Chuckatuck. Pat teaches at Churchland High. Almost every week I see Bobby Obenchain Hopcroft at the shopping center. Bobby has been in Richmond 9 years. Janice Pinkard Hitt and husband, Milan, live in Salem, where Janice teaches in a private school. They have two children—Candice and Milan, 11.

Joyce Cheatham Harvey was named the outstanding business teacher of the Richmond area for 1966 by the Richmond Chapter of Administrative Management Society. Congratulations! Betty Saffelle Milan and her husband, "Red", and two sons, Bob and Vincent, are in Emporia.

Sue Webb Welsh came to Farmville in February for Miss Iler's birthday reception given by Phys. Ed. graduates over the past years. No—I didn't make it! I had the mumps! My activities are probably a repetition of yours with children—homemaker, gardener, taxi service, volunteer work, social secretary, and trying to gather news for this letter.

Could "you all" do one thing for me now? Drop me a few lines about yourselves and your activities. I have just one more letter to write before our 15th reunion '68. Let's see everyone's name in the next news letter. Do right and do write!

If you have never reread your Christmas cards in the month of June, do so by all means! In the hurry and excitement of Christmas, I really think we miss the significance of the nice notes that are added. As I sit compiling this letter, I feel pretty nostalgic about each of you, and wish our next reunion were nearer!

Several were anticipating little ones, Patty Derring Coleman and also Ann Thomas Wicke. Ann was also looking forward to moving into a new house in Franklin where husband, Ralph, is industrial engineer at Union Bag-Camp Paper Co.

Virginia Sutherland Knott has curtailed a few of those outside activities since the birth of her young daughter, but she teaches piano and does some remedial work. Also from Dinwiddie way, comes news from Martha Tomlinson Ashby. Her husband, Charlie, is a "country doctor" there and Martha helps with his office work. They and the four children are settled in a new home. Martha sees Virginia often, and also Dinwiddians, Sadie Hall Bain Marsh and Nancy Birdsall Bain

'55x, Ann Moore Blackstock and Tom are just living quietly in Poquoson, she says, then adds, "as quietly as five sons will allow!"

A wise observation was made by Betty Islin Safelle, when she said, "There is quite a difference in being a parent and in being a teacher!" Boop is grade mother for Rob's second grade class this year. She, Rob, and Ginger are so proud of dad, who had been made vice president of Wachovia Bank. Mason Moore Barrett's husband, Jim, is a Methodist minister in Honea Path, N. C. and Mason stays busy just trying to keep up with the three children and her husband.

What a delightful Christmas card from Sylvia Reames Picardat. That Bob is so talented! The cover is a sketch of the Picardat family, and the inside contained a newsletter of their activities. Sylvia has been president of the Alexandria Jr. Woman's Club and was also instrumental in organizing a new garden club this year. Peggy Hood Smith is chairman of the Junior League Children's Theatre in Newport News. All but one of her four spend some part of the day in school now, and she sure misses the crowd.

A trip to the New York World's Fair was a highlight for Mary Bennett Barksdale and John Mills last summer. They are enjoying their 500 acre farm with their three boys. Mary is substitute teaching and working with the PTA. Betty Benton Odom, Henry and Beth were in Washington for four days, in Nags Head for a week; then, she and Henry took a ten day trip to the new England states. So glad Benton sat down long enough to write!

In Blackstone Nell Copley Irby and Jack moved into their new home, and she is teaching Phys. Ed. and Business subjects this year. Jane Branch Botula, living in Gaithersburg, Md. had one child in school and the other in nursery school. Four boys and a girl keep Doris Garlasco Umberger occupied, as they are busily engaged in Scouts, YMCA Swim Team, basketball, Little League and church and school activities.

Our nautical classmate, Pat Altwegg Brown was brimming with news about husband, Ray. He was planning to take Fleetwind (their 39 auxilar sloop) to Fla. to race in the Southern Ocean Racing Circuit. Then Pat planned to go to Nassau and cruise back on Fleetwind with him. How exciting! Though to us land-lubbers that sounds like a lot of sea sickness!

June Johns Grigg, Jim, Jane and Stacy took to the beaches last summer—Nags Head and Surf City, N. J. June enjoys her Junior Woman's Club work. Mary Denny Wilson Parr, Wilton, and boys had a marvelous tour of Fla. on their vacation. I had a card from Lyn Hill Finney depicting the five little Finneys. The postmark was New York, so we are assuming the stay in Oklahoma was short. Fay Greenland Campbell and husband, son and baby girl are living in Manila, Philippines for two years on assignment from the Bank of America. To quote Fay, "we have a 7-room house, elegantly furnished, and two maids who do all the housework, cooking and baby-sitting plus a luscious garden and a gardener to take care of it." Need I say more? Having dinner in Richmond recently, we ran into Mary Ann Evans McKinney who is teaching and principal in a private school in the country.

The Lafoons have had a wonderful year. We are enjoying the house, the woods, nature in general, and are avid birdwatchers! After a glorious Christmas we escaped for a relaxing trip to Fla. On the way, we had a brief visit and coffee with Betty Lou Garrett Atwood in Fayetteville, N. C.

The best to each of you for the coming year and be sure to write so your news can be included next time!

How wonderful it was to hear from so many of you! Barbara Moore Curling lives in Richmond with her husband and three children. Cynthia is in 6th grade, Del is in 3rd grade, and 4-yr.-old Kevin is at home. She and Ann Glenn Savedge attend the same church. Ann has an 11-yr.-old daughter and year-old twin boys. Barbara talked with Nan Picinich Jordan's mother and found that she is living in Winston-Salem, N. C. The Curlings were cruising in Barbara's Dad's yacht from Fla. to Norfolk along the Inland Waterway and doing a bit of sightseeing along the way.

Ernestine Johnson Delaney writes that Kim (8) is in the third grade. She keeps in touch with Jackie White Twyman and Ann Carter Wendenburg Silver, who has moved to Richmond from Fredericksburg. Hayden is working with Texaco Experiment, Inc. All three of their children are in school so Ann Carter started renewing her certificate last year. Shirley Ward Pateson, with little Anne Walker on the scene, has retired from teaching.

Anne Thaxton Daniels has two sons in grade school and a 4-yr.-old son at home. Her husband, a veterinarian, had an offer with the Australian Govt., so I'm anxious to know where they are now. The Daniels have been having amateur Rodeos on their farm near Halifax the last week-end of each summer month. Audrey Powell Pittard has just completed a year as president of the Junior Woman's Club of South Boston. A highlight of her year in office was sponsoring the Miss Halifax County Pageant, an official Miss America preliminary. Her husband is president of the Halifax Jaycees. Their most recent antique find was a No. 8 School Bell to arouse sleepy heads—Ed (5) and Tom (2)!

I'm sure that all of you join me in extending our heartfelt sympathy to Nancy Nelson Diggs, Bob and Nelson, their 6-yr.-old son, in the death of their little Nan. She became ill of cirrhosis of the liver just after Nancy came home from the hospital with little Spencer in August. So after several frantic months in and out of the hospital, she died on November 22, 1965. Nancy writes, "Though we would have liked to have had her longer than 3 1/2 years, we feel so fortunate to have had her at all. Her beauty, her vibrance and her love will always be a part of us—and the days of her life a blessed memory."

"Nothing new has happened here," says Joan DeAlba Dawson. Her Lisa (8) is in third grade and Susanne started to school. Joan teaches Sunday School, belongs to the Junior League, does volunteer work with the Children's Theatre.

Lamenting about only having her little boy at home with her, Betty West Buchert writes from Va. Beach that her two girls are now in school, but teaching Sunday School keeps her busy. Nell Crocker Owen, her husband and daughter spent a few days with Betty. In Lawrenceville Mary Alice Ellington Thomas stays on the go with her boys, Ray and Michael, 3 and 6. In addition to her church work, particularly with youth, she is active in their Eastern Star Chapter. Her husband, Gene, is with Brunswick Insurance Agency and runs his Mother's farm in addition to their own. Jo Burley Adams '62 has a new house with more room for her family of two boys and a girl. Don is teaching at VPI and Jo has returned to teaching third grade in Blacksburg.

Last Christmas we, along with Becky Hines Bowling and family, had the pleasure of visiting Betty Jane Griffin Holland in Carysbrook; a visit marred only by our having to drive 2/3 of the way to Lynchburg by the light of a spot light because of headlight trouble. The Hollands were anticipating the arrival of their newest addition, John Michael, in April. Becky is busy with two little boys at home and a son and daughter in school.

Clare Davis Wallace has three little boys, the oldest of whom enters kindergarten this year. Her husband is with Sears, Roebuck Co. Carolyn Watson Yeatts is teaching Home Economics and World Geography in Farmville in addition to being Supt. of the Primary Sunday School at her church. Her daughters are in second and third grades. Last summer she and family visited Va. Beach and spent some time with Betty West Buchert.

Barbara Assaid Mills '54 lives in Baltimore where Jimmy has been working in the Gemini Program for Martin. They were allowed to bring their families to the plant to see the Titans used in Gemini 6 and 7. Bobby has become quite a camper as she is involved in Girl Scouts with her daughters, Betsy and Laura. Her son, Eric, is in the second grade. She recently served as president of the Alumnae Chapter in her area. She writes that Georgette Puryear Goode lost her 21-month-old son from leukemia. Georgette is living in Westfield, N. J. now with her husband and 8-yr.-old daughter. To Georgette, we also extend our most sincere sympathy.

Life at her house in New England is never dull, says Marion Webb Gaylor. Paul is with Worthington Air Conditioning and keeps busy with Jaycees and church work. With the addition of Courtney in the fall of '65, Marion now has a family of 5 girls and 1 boy, yet she finds time to be active in PTA and churchwork. Phyllis Powell Swertfeger and Walter are teaching in Rhinebeck, N. Y. Their son, Scott, is in first grade and Stephanie begins kindergarten.

Ellen Brent Dize Boone has a family of four—two boys and two girls to fill up the parsonage in Carthage, N. C. where her husband is a Methodist minister. Also with a family of 4, Ann Watkins White writes that her youngest entered kindergarten this year. Her husband, Lindow, is head of the Standards Dept. for Dan River Mills in Montgomery, Ala. They make yearly visits to Va. and occasionally see Martha Donaldson Crute in Roanoke. In Lakeland, Fla. where her husband is a pharmacist at the Lakeland General Hospital, Jane Bailey Willson announces the adoption of a precious little boy.

From Coronado, Calif., Mary Hundley Hyatt writes that Jack is serving on Admiral R. B. Erly's staff; a change to the Navy from the Marines. She did come to Va. summer before last with Casey (5) and Morgan (3). Helen Waitman Wheeler has added a little girl to her family of two boys there in Anaheim, Calif. Her oldest is in Little League and Bob coached Pop Warner Football last year. Not to be outdone by the men in her life, Helen joined the Parks and Recreation Softball League.

I wish I could copy Audrey Morse Tiller's delightful letter in its entirety. Three months after her Army Major husband left for his tour of duty on Okinawa, she and her two boys, Bruce (9) and Scott (7), were flown there in Sept. 1965. They are living in a three-bedroom bungalow that is concrete inside and out—not the thatched roof cottage she had expected. Okinawa, though made of a coral formation, is very green and farming is the chief occupation. She writes that the people are such friendly smiling folk. From halfway across the world she brought us sad news that Sylvia Bradshaw Butler lost her husband, Dick, November, '65. We are distressed to hear of this and send our love and expression of sympathy to her.

Beth Kent Thurston and Bill have had a busy year. In April they went to Calif. for her brother's wedding; in June to Bermuda for "Race Week" and in August they planned a two week stay at Va. Beach. The boys are now 13, 11 & 10 and the baby girl is just 14 months.

Many thanks to those of you who send me changes of addresses. I had two letters returned this time, so perhaps you can help again if you know the whereabouts of Mary Coules Lavigne or Peggy Worthington Richardson. Best wishes to all of you in the months ahead.

It finally came—our 10th class reunion—a time that we all vowed would certainly not be spent on the Longwood campus! But there we were—some forty of us looking simply superb—chatting and hugging and listening to girls serenade us over the Rotunda. It was nostalgic and such a lot of fun, and we missed those of you who couldn't come.

A highlight of the day was the acknowledgment of five outstanding alumnae chosen for selection in the book Outstanding Young Women of America. We were very proud that two were chosen from the class of '56! Congratulations from each of us to Helen Warriner and Suzanne Prillaman Lowry for their superb accomplishments during the past ten years. The brave Jacksons entertained two red and white classes that weekend at "Burmont," and I can guarantee that my father probably enjoyed our Sat. night reunion more than anyone. He adores Longwood girls! Libby and he send special thanks to the class of '56 for the lovely red and white azaleas they received later that week.

We were fortunate that one of our Calif. residents, Jane Blake Lawrence, decided to move to Va. again just in time for the reunion.

Not so lucky was Loretta Brooking Gasswint who couldn't get here before a summer vacation. Loretta had a special year of fun and rewards when she retired from all outside interests to devote more time to her family and new home.

Carolyn Gray Abdalla, who lives in Green Ridge, Pa., spends time sewing for her children and herself, appeared at Founders Day looking very chic indeed in original creations. Pete is at Sun Shipbuilding and they enjoy frequent jaunts into Philadelphia. Spare time is seldom available for Margurete Franklin Grekos and her husband who is now North Danville YMCA Executive. They have 3 children, and she teaches fourth grade at G.L.H. Johnson School and enjoys having a student teacher from Longwood.

After a two year "vacation" Frances Edwards Bowen returned to teaching in Franklin. Also combining teaching and homemaking is Elizabeth Sutherland Connelly in DeWitt. Molly Ann Harvey Childers and Lois Ann Childers Sessoms had a small reunion of their own in Williamsburg on Founders Day. Molly Ann is living in Charlotte, N. C. and promises to make it to Farmville in 1971. Gene Phillips Rhodes and Bill and two girls moved to Franklin and he is practicing law. Patricia Cantrell Taylor, who lives in Tappahannock, had the best excuse possible for missing our reunion, a new baby, their second child. Rose Frost is working for the Republican National Committee in Washington and has enrolled in a graduate course through U. Va. in Arlington where she lives. Nancy McLawhorn Rhue and her husband, Bill, have been in Grove City, Ohio, for several years. He is District Hospital Manager for Roerig Pharmaceutical Co., and she is busy with their two children and studying folk guitar.

Mary Ann Maddox teaches first grade in Lynchburg and is active in the AAUW and Lynchburg Junior Woman's Club. Sarah Jane Brisentine Mick teaches at Thomas Dale High School in Chester and was honored by the World Book Encyclopedia and Jaycees when she was selected as Outstanding Young Educator in that area. Congratulations! Shirley Adams Daniel teaches Health and P.E. at Varina High School in Henrico County. She sent news of Shirley Wilbourne Garland who teaches fourth grade at Seven Pines and Betsy Radcliff Bedinger who returned to teaching Special Education.

There were others from whom I heard in the Richmond area but they claimed to have no news of special interest except for Mary Ellen Hawthorne Balazs' new daughter. These were Julie Moncure Moseley, Iris Scott Harrison, and Marion Ruffin Anderson.

Anne Brooking Stelter wrote of becoming "Florida Crackers." They have bought a home in Palm Beach. Louise Turner Caldwell, busy with her two children, also teaches at Smithfield High School. She sees Jane Lee who is now in Goldsboro, and gathers frequently with Shirley Kemp Barlow, Nell Crocker Owen '55, June Elder Reynolds, and Catherine Meeks Dozier.

Before her first baby arrived, Shirley Kemp Barlow knitted a baby bunting which she entered in the Smithfield Junior Woman's Club Arts and Crafts contest and won a first place. Going on to greater glory, she won a first in the Southside District and second in the State Va. Federation of Woman's Clubs contest. Congratulations! Bettye Matas Sterzing is in Roanoke where her husband is Assistant General Solicitor for the N. & W. Railroad.

Barbara Mays Harris plans to be an elementary teacher in N. J. this fall. She is now in Sparrow Bush, N. Y., where Bond continues to study at Drew U. and to pastor two churches in N. Y. State. Far away from Barbara in Sunny Metairie, La., lives Sue Moschler Baradell who in April probably had the most recent class baby.

Eulless, Texas, a suburb of Dallas, is home for Ann Jones Mitchell. She has been renewing her certificate by taking Texas history and gov't. She has talked with Bootsie Miller Quinn in Dallas. Bootsie's husband, Galen, is manager of the Marriott Cafeteria and she has been enjoying a year of luncheons and bowling with the Newcomers Club. They were vacationing in Mexico at Reunion time with their son, Christopher, 5. Nancy Hartman Welker lives near Manassas and enjoys doing home improvements and teaches kindergarten half a day. Dale Brothers Birdsong and Bill are very knowledgeable about peanuts down in Suffolk and devote much time to club work and civic organizations.

Ann Coleman Ross has the distinction of being the only class member to share her husband with the reunion. Brave Don! But he seemed to enjoy it, and we were pleased to have him. Becky Blair Butcher, our permanent Farmville resident, is teaching in the Prince Edward Lower Academy and last year moved into their new home. Lorene Allen Roberts taught English at Crewe High School as well as caring for three little boys.

I have moved to Washington and am working in Hematology at National Institutes of Health. Here in Georgetown I share a house with three others, one of whom is Phyllis Nurney. She is working with Kaiser Industries, and we both extend a warm welcome to all who just pass through or can spend a night with us. Helen Wartner, who lives in Richmond, occasionally finds that her work brings her to Washington, so we get a glimpse of her from time to time. A happy surprise visit this spring was paid by Betsy Welbon Alwood, and since then we have learned that all the Alwoods will be moving to the Fairfax area in the summer.

I wish I could review every moment of the Founders Day week-end for all who couldn't be there. At least there is a picture in the BULLETIN of the group—second largest representatives—and this picture will be available to those who wish them through the Alumnae Office.

Do send changes of address to the Alumnae Office, and don't forget to send me black and white pictures of your children if you wish them included with the news letter. I'll look forward to hearing from you next year.

How could ten years have passed so quickly? Yes, encircle your calendar for March and start making plans to return to Longwood for our 10th Reunion. Begin now to gather snapshots, plan a new hair style, go on a diet if necessary, and contact classmates so that we can go back in record numbers to catch up with all that has happened to the class of '57 in a decade!

The Class of '57 has contributed to the Population Explosion this past year! From Blacksburg, Jane Brugh Layman contributed the most exciting news with twin girls. Elizabeth Brugh and Rachel Montgomery. Elba Flynn Hubbard and John welcomed David Wilcox in Sept. and Elba retired from teaching. John is with the navy in Portsmouth as an industrial engineer. Pat Ashby Robinson and Dub were happy to welcome Melissa Ashby in May.

Mary Robertson Warner retired from teaching when Charles Christopher arrived in February. "Peanuts" Winder Grimstead left her teaching duties for Lisa Michelle born June, '65. The high esteem and deep respect for "Peanuts" as a person and as a teacher was indicated when the 1965 Tiger, the yearbook at Smith High School, was dedicated to her.

Charlotte Fudge Grant of Gastonia, N. C., isn't teaching now, but she is busy with church and club work. A new baby grand gives her the opportunity to continue her piano and she teaches baton lessons once each week at the YMCA. Her son, Michael Carrington, 4, attends kindergarten. Ann Miller Serrett is in Portsmouth with her three children. Faye Edwards Stephens and Billy have built a new home near Windsor. They have a year old son. Camille Atwood is working on her Master's at William and Mary and in Sept. hopes to work as a supervisor or consultant. Mary Jo Davis is enjoying her new life at Averett College with the Alumnae Assoc.

True to form, "Charlie Hop" has located about twenty Longwood girls in the vicinity of Orlando, Fla., and has "organized" an alumnae group. Miss Gleaves, while visiting in the area, was invited to attend a luncheon with them. What an emissary "Charlie Hop" was and still is for Longwood!

Nancy Lea Harris Sublett writes that "Kuhnie" is doing graduate work at the U. of Va. and will receive her Master's in Guidance. She is on a sabbatical leave from the Alexandria school system. Nancy Lea and Jim are located in Alexandria. Sis Brown Douthat and Wade have a new home in Roanoke. Ann White Thomas Matthews received her Master's from Longwood in June '64. Her family, consisting of three boys: David 7, Timothy 4, and Mark 1, are seasoned campers and love it! They live in Newport News.

I was sorry to hear of the sudden death of Gayle Peoples Shiner's mother last February. Gayle's husband, Billy, is working on his Master's at the U. of Fla. and hopes to be with the Forestry and Conservation Dept. of a vocational school for the state of Fla. Their children are Jim and Beth. Jackie Adams Spangler and Dean hope to build on their six-acre estate near Williamsburg. Jackie is teaching third grade in Newport News. Joyce Pulley Bryant enjoys her new home in Manassas and her year old daughter, Joan Carol. Jeanette Puckett Williams is teaching first grade. With her daughter, Cathy, Jeanette has enjoyed chatting with Anne Wayne Fuller Patterson and her children. Anne Wayne is back in Danville where her husband is practicing medicine. Along with Johnny and Meredith, they visited Disneyland and Hawaii while stationed in California.

Back in the States from their tour of duty in Japan are Anne Thomas Denny, Lee, and their two boys. They bought a home in Charleston, S. C. where Lee is assigned. Co-producers of the successful presentation of "The Beggar's Opera" at the Gadsby Tavern in Alexandria were Adele Donaldson Cleary and her husband. Adele is working at George Washington U. in the admissions office as an evaluator, while Tom is selling real estate. She saw Judy Harris Bailey while Judy and her family were sight-seeing in Washington from their home in Ashland.

Suzanne Garner Leggett's husband, Bill, received his Ph.D. in Nuclear Engineering at N. C. State in 1963. They are in Pittsburgh where he is with Westinghouse Atomic Power. Their two boys are Ward 9, and Bobby 6. From Hampden Highlands, Maine, Gloria Kratzsch Young and from Short Hills, N. J., Sandra Dyer Hinson sent greetings during the Holiday Season. Anne Caldwell Cake's husband, Charlie, has his law practice in Arlington and she is busy with Charles who is two. Nancy Lenz Harvey is at the U. of N. C. working toward her Doctorate. Jeanne Saunders took a year off to work on her Master's at the U. of Richmond. Had brief encounters with Barbara Benedict and Jo Hillsman Winters. I will be attending another NSF institute this summer at the U. of Calif. It's to be a Field Natural History Course and seems to be a wonderful chance to explore that part of our country.

As our funds are depleted, I hope that each of you will drop me a note including news of your activities and news of any other members of our class. No inquiries are being sent, so I am depending upon your letters to help me compile our happenings. As you read this during the holidays, why not add a line to a Christmas card and send it to me, so that you, too, can be included in our review?

I look forward to seeing you in Farmville on Founders Day—March 18 and 19.

Newport News, Va.

As you know Carol Wolfe has been working on her Master's Degree during '65-'66 at the U. of Md. and by the time you read this she will be back at Wakefield High School. The postmarks came from 10 states and 2 foreign countries! Many thanks for your response.

Shirley Hauptman Gaunt continues her busy schedule of teaching Sunday School, garden club work, and hospital auxiliary in Winchester. Cary is in kindergarten. In April Suzie Barr Kendall and Bobby were in Winchester on a three week vacation from Oklahoma City, Okla., and returned home shortly before the arrival of their son—"Gentry." Mary Lee Teel Webb and lawyer husband, Charles, from Charlottesville went to Winchester to see the Kendalls.

Mary Ann Barnett Trapp and family are neighbors of Betty Jo Cook Carter and Pat Younger Brown. Mary Ann is busy with her 3 children. Pat Younger Brown and family will be moving to their new home soon. Pat's son, Ricky-6, had very successful open heart surgery at Johns-Hopkins this spring. Annette Crain

Allen's days are filled with young "Wendy" and Bruce. Annette is the Secy. of the Va. Dental Auxiliary this year and an active member of the Junior League. She sees Linda Garrison Bowe who is in Williamsburg. If you are planning a trip to Houston, Texas, you will find Lucia Hart Gurley and Betsy Ruckman Modlin both with new sons and plans for new homes on the same street in Dickinson, Texas.

Anne Rountree Shinn saw Sue Jett Russler in Charlotte, N. C. where Sue and Dan are living also. Anne's husband, Jerry, has gone into business for himself—Shinn and Assoc. Advertising and Public Relations. Janet Lloyd Adams' husband, Wayne, has finished his second year at MCV Dental School. Janet saw Sarah Hackworth Ryan this spring in Halifax when Sarah was visiting from her home in Calif. Sara Gayhart Irby and Henry are living in Fredericksburg. Emily Atkinson Williams is working for Reynolds Metals in Richmond. Carolyn Kelly Gerber sends wonderful news from Lebanon, Pa.—a daughter for the Gerbers! Last summer she and Paul were at Va. Beach where they saw Betty Lou Cornick Corwell and family of 2 sons. Frances Rosenkrans Wirt's husband is principal of Crozet Elementary School. Carolyn Ward Fronfelter and family have moved into a new home in Waverly.

Teaching recaptured Ann Brierley Fulghum in March. Tom has been promoted Coordinator of Special Projects for Chesterfield County. Nancy Thomas is Supervisor of Special Education for Chesterfield. Mary Beth Picinich Stokes is in Hampton. A wonderful letter came from Cle Koons Cochran who has three boys and is in East Northport, N. Y. Glenn is with American Airlines. Cle writes that Carole Stroupe Wirt is in Roanoke and Linda Chambers France in Richmond.

From the other side of the USA came news of Madeline Barley Warren and Bernard. She has invited all of us to the Alaska Centennial in '67. Warren is the assistant principal at West High School in Anchorage. Jane Lloyd Westpol returned from Hawaii for a year in Newport News with her 3 sons while Pete was in Viet Nam. In Feb. '65 Ellen Webb Dempsey made a very successful trip to Quito, Ecuador where she met her husband who was touring South America for the Dept. of Army. Jane Crute Sowards, Jo Maxe White and Ella Carter Bayne attended their wedding.

Weston Walker Gupton is busy with volunteer work. She sees Eleanor Crowder Blanks who has moved back to Clarksville. Cora Alyce Somerville Kyle and husband are in Franklin, Pa. where Jack is chaplain at Polk State School for the mentally retarded. They have a daughter, Martha, who is two. Cora Alyce has been gathering master points in bridge.

Christine Rhodes Cumbe and husband and four children moved into a new home in Courtland. Ann Jeter Collins and family are stationed at the Lexington, Ky. Army Depot. Bill recently returned from a year in Korea and has been promoted to Major. Jane Crute Sowards' husband, Al, is principal of two elementary schools in Leesburg. Jane writes that Mary Ann Foster Rust's twins are adorable. Margaret Dowdy is in Ashland. Carol Lash Pugh is in West Nyack, N. Y. New York state also claims Liz Blackman Eberwine whose children in Pomona are learning all the winter sports.

Sally Tilson Carter is working part time with IBM in Lexington where husband, Al, has a men's clothing store. Young "Ginny" keeps Sally busy. Caroline Oakey Talley is in Lexington where her husband has a music store.

Pat Patton is in Karlsruhe, Germany, where she is teaching and touring. This fall she will return to Altavista. Charlotte Hall Padera and Chuck remain in Winter Park, Fla. They have a young daughter. "Charlie Hop" French lives only a few blocks from Charlotte. This past winter she entertained Miss Ruth Gleaves who was visiting relatives. Cornelia Anne Batte Roberts and Majorie Allgood Harrison taught school together last year. Both have new additions to their families. Jacques Trader Kavanaugh is in Atlanta, Ga. and serving as president of their Community Center. Their daughter, Beth, attends a Parrish Day School.

Japan still claims Given White Pruitt and family, but they will return to the states in March, '67 after 3 yrs. Judy Alexander Herrmann's husband, Bob, is the Presbyterian minister in Ripley, W. Va. Judy says the church is young and a challenge. Nancy Drudge Fawcett is a Longwood professor's wife and is seeing life from "the other side." Ray has established a Physics Curriculum at Longwood.

Margie Anderson Salack is in Arlington and Nan Brimmer is in Norfolk. Norfolk also claims Nancy Baker Cooper whose husband is with Newport News Shipyard and Drydock Company. Sue Amory Jenkins, whose husband is with NASA and completing his Master's Degree with U. Va., lives in Hampton. Ann De Alba North and Carl have two sons and are busy with a new home.

Anita Heflin Allen and husband, Jim, will be leaving Arlington for Charlottesville in the fall for a year at U. Va. as Jim won a National Science Foundation Grant for graduate study. Joan Coakley Owens' husband is now employed at the Naval Weapons Laboratory at Dahlgren. They have an 18-month old daughter, Priscilla. Joan is not teaching but is active as secretary for the King George County Fall Festival, clerk and choir director for her church, and education chairman as well as charter president for the King George Woman's Club. Joan visited Mary Jane McLaney Jones in Savage, Md. in May.

Carol Lash Pugh's husband, Randy, is with the hit musical "Man of La Mancha", starring Richard Kiley. Carol is active in the charter chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in Rockland County and has also substituted in the elementary schools in West Nyack.

Last summer we decided to make our temporary stay in Newport News a permanent one and bought a home so Robert and I are busy like many of you with flowers, bricks, paint, etc. Jennifer is 4 and Bob is 2 and both with red hair! If you are ever in Newport News, please come to see us. Again, thanks for all the news.

We enjoyed a year in the chateau country of France, but look forward to being in the USA and our home in Ga. Our last guests in France were Linda Doles Dougherty and Paul who live in Weisbaden, Germany. Paul and Linda will spend three years in Germany, where Paul works as a manager for the American Express Co. Linda returned to the states in June to attend her brother's graduation from VMI.

On our way to port, we visited Helen Jean Young who teaches in the American School in Giessen and has enjoyed many trips the past year. Barbara Heck Bruns and Jerry will be near Helen in Frankfurt. Barbara and Jerry transferred there from England and Jerry will be counselor at Frankfurt American High School.

In California is Betty McClenny Gordon who is a research engineer for Jet Propulsion Lab and Roy is with NASA. Betty reports that Polly Longworth '60x was their guest for dinner. Natalie Tudor Brown does research for Electro-Mechanical Research and Kenneth is a mechanical engineer. They have two children and a new home in Silver Springs, Md.

Jane Adams Schwartz and Donald live in Richmond. Jane has a job as programmer for ALMC. Lillian Rossen Spicer is a homemaker. Ann Glover O'Dell and Denton have a second son and Sarah Hastings Jones and Steve have a new baby boy. Donna Boone File and Dwight live in Richmond, but they have bought a small farm for their cattle, and spend week-ends in the country. Donna is busy as wife and mother and Dwight works for the Am. Tobacco Co. Donna and Weddie Norman Hoffman attended Founders Day at Longwood. Also in Richmond, Gwen Melton Baucom is busy caring for Ed and Lisa.

It was nice to hear that Nancy Andrews was heading back to Longwood as Assistant Professor of Health and Physical Education. Miss Iler's former major students gave her a birthday reception on February 13th in Farmville. Fifty-niners present were Delo Doves Eanes, Sandy Fitzgerald Tarter, Nancy George, Willie Taylor, Jackie Waller Asbury, and Sandy Sandidge. Sandy is teaching at Ferrum Junior College. Her sponsorship of the cheerleaders took her to the National Junior College football game in Savannah, Ga. Cheered by Sandy's squad, Ferrum won, and they're the national champions! During the summer, Sandy attends U. Va.

Virilinda Joyner is attending graduate school. She entertained Betty Rawls Unwin and Charlotte Sims one week-end. Virilinda enjoys visiting Inez Crump Mihalcoe and Charles who have three little girls. Molly Workman lives in Springfield and continues to be an English teacher in Fairfax County. I saw Liz Nichols Thornby in December when she, Bill and Virilinda Joyner came to Suffolk to attend my wedding. Liz lives in Silver Springs, Md. and cares for Bill and two young Thornbys. She planned to teach in Md. this fall. Barbara Odum Wright has two little Wrights to keep out of mischief.

Mary Ellen Moore Piland is teaching first grade in school and in Sunday School. Jean Turner Groom and Bob have a new home. Jean is working in a private reading center. Joann Fivel, in addition to teaching, is singing with the Newport News Operatic Society, acting with the Community Theatre, and helping to direct school plays. She was made an honorary member of the school thespian troop. Nearby, in Hampton, Anne Presson Davis is a homemaker. Anne and Don have two boys.

Joan Heavyside Stubblefield devotes all of her time to the care of John and the soon-to-be two little ones! Anne LaBonte Futrell and Howard live in Winston-Salem, N. C. Lillie Stoltz Smith and Kenneth have a new home in Boykins. Kenny is a partner in the insurance business and Lillie is active in the Junior Woman's Club. They have two little girls.

Coreta Bennett Osborne and Frank are living in College Park, Md. and Coreta takes one course at the U. of Md. Carolyn Copeland Dix is living in Burlington, N. C. Bill works for Burlington Industries and is scheduled for a transfer, so when you read this, Carolyn may be living in Rocky Mount.

A long letter came from Joann Sloop Simmers who is busy in Lexington as a minister's wife and caring for a son, Kevin. Joann has double duty for meetings and choirs as Marvin is pastor of two churches.

Elsie Dick Hood, Jim, and son, George, live in Falls Church. Hilda Thompson Hood and Darl live in Groton, Conn., where Darl is with the General Dynamics Corp. They have three boys. Joann Baldwin Black lives in Staunton with her lawyer hubby and their daughter, Ann. Jackie Harper Meador is in Lynchburg and has a boy and a girl. "Cass" Connor Flatley keeps house for her family of five in Belmont, Calif. Martha Rucker Coleman and Bob are in Atlanta, Ga. Martha and Bob enjoy the Atlanta Braves games and the operas and plays that come to Atlanta. She is active in the alumnae chapter of ZTA and in the Junior Woman's Club. Vicki Brinkley Hunter and George live in Annandale. George is an economist with the Federal Aviation Agency. She and Inez Crump Mihalcoe, Molly Workman, Virilinda Joyner and I spent several hours discussing houses, L. C., people, babies, and jobs.

Eleanor Gurganus Brinkley and Fred spent two weeks at Ann Arbor, Mich., while Fred attended a conference. The four Brinkleys live in Glen Burnie, Md. and Fred works with the Dept. of Defense at Ft. Meade. If you get to Fla., you can visit Betty Ray Lazenby Markham, Charles and their three children in Immo-halee. They visited Va. and Ga. during the early summer, and I just missed Betty Ray when she was visiting near Gray, Ga. Helen Hillman Drummond and her two children are residing in Winter Park while Jim who is a major is in Viet Nam.

Charlotte Jewell Garst lives in Roanoke. Doris Ayres McElfresh is a part-time teacher at a local nursery school in Blacksburg. Her younger daughter attends the school and the older one is in first grade. Betty Rawls Unwin's husband, Dave, has been in Viet Nam and is due to return to the states in October. "Fig" Newton Weston is teaching elementary school in Williamsburg and loves it.

Agnes Lowry Frasier lives in Newport News. Aggie was married in April and became the mother of three boys. She says, "It isn't often that one becomes a bride, wife and mother all in one evening." Aggie and Tommy planned to take a trip to Fla. in the early summer.

If you are ever in Tacoma, Wash., visit Barbara Hurst French and Thomas. Barbara teaches speech part-time and is a homemaker for Thomas and two-year-old Vaughan. She is active in Beta Sigma Phi.

Elaine Weddle Chestnut writes that Walter will return to the U. of Mich. this fall to begin study for a doctorate and she will teach near Ann Arbor. Barbara Gamage Newman has been teaching in Cumberland. Dorothy Boswell Leach of Stafford received the degree of Master of Arts in special education from George Peabody College for Teachers in June.

I started this letter aboard ship in the Atlantic. Luther and I are trying to get settled in Indianapolis, Ind. where we'll be until Christmas. He is currently attending school at Ft. Benjamin Harrison and I am enjoying being a homemaker and a "lady-in-waiting," too.

I cannot recall having a more delightful surprise at Christmas time than to receive news from some of the scattered Class of 1960. I only wish that more of you would add me to your Christmas list.

Our class seems to be populated by world travelers, for I find that no place in the world is too distant for the Class of 1960. Doris Puryear Marks has made the Far East her area of travel while trying to keep up with her jet-pilot husband. Jean O'Connell is still concentrating on the Far East, too, while finishing her teaching in Okinawa. Anne B. Palmer packed her steamer trunk and set out for a teaching job in Wurzburg, Germany. It is amazing to her when she runs into classmates like Ruth Denton and Nancy Harnsburger so far away from home. I have not heard whether she has seen Yvonne Webb Stewart and Joe in Germany so far.

Another European traveler was Barbara Bishop, but she returned to Longwood where she is teaching and as usual representing our class as a true red and white. Barbara mentioned seeing Billie Jo Altizer Reid when she was in Roanoke.

Joann Tench is now studying Spanish and Linguistics at Georgetown U. Joann sees Callie Johnson McDowell and Helen Wente in the Alexandria area. Jo Ann Garner Wagstaff is teaching private lessons in voice, piano, and guitar in New Holland, Pa. She is also frequently found sailing with her husband Bob in the upper Chesapeake Bay. Kevin sounds like the joy of her life. Carol Mattheus Williams is teaching in San Antonio, Texas, while Don is in Law School. Her children are Todd and Scott. Linda Lane Connell is also a student wife while Dick completes his second year at the U. of Fla.

Nancy Donaldson Middlecamp in Buchanan is primarily a homemaker, with the exception of some tutoring. Her children are Laura and Tommy, Jr. Barbara Stephenson Fields and her husband Carl have been living in Fairfax since Carl transferred to Dulles International Airport. Barbara has been teaching, but now devotes her time to Joanna Faye. Ann Elliott Brooks is living in Charlottesville with her twins and her husband, Marion, while he works on his Ph.D. at the U. Barbara sees Mary Ann Walker

Shindle who is living in Vienna and teaching in a private kindergarten part-time and spending the rest of her time with her husband and three-year-old son.

Annie Lee Young Duff is living in Chuckatuck, and Mate Fadely Tisinger is teaching Physical Education in Herndon. Linda Jo Saunders Kent and Don have settled in Alexandria where Don is practicing law and Linda Jo is teaching fourth grade. Linda Jo sees Helen Garter Yowell and Joann Tench in the Alexandria area. Carolyn DeHaven Dodds is living in Calif. and is teaching piano, caring for her growing family (Jennifer and Stuart) and taking sewing lessons at Jerry's insistence. Carolyn wrote that she had a visit from Norrish Manson Rozzoni and her husband George and said that Norrish is enjoying the cultural entertainment in New York which is quite convenient to her home in Irvington, N. J.

Becky Jones is a member of the faculty in Louisa. I spent the past year as a guidance counselor in Charlottesville and will be there again next year. Please write to me about yourself and any other classmate that you know about so that the Class of 1960 will be well represented in the ALUMNAE BULLETIN.

Our first reunion was wonderful! For those of you that were unable to attend—we missed you and hope you can make our next reunion. Thank you for your letters.

Many of us are settled in the Richmond area. Betty Sue Dickinson Leonard and her husband have just moved into a house which they designed. Ann Hardy Etheridge is keeping house and expecting very soon. Kitty Reid Wade is expecting this summer. Judy Robertson Wobbrock is keeping house and tabs on a baby girl.

Harriet Dawson and Frances Ayres are working on their Master's Degrees at Longwood. Kay Hubbard Powell has two children now—Ann and Richard—and enjoying life on a farm near Williamsburg. Kay Pierce Long will have a son in kindergarten next year. Mary Bonner Crouch and Clara Lee Parker Ripley are still teaching. Lillie Rogers Rubin is in Columbo, Ceylon with her husband Phillip who is a satellite expert for the U. N. Bobby Koons Shilling, and Stephanie Bissess Smith are keeping house in Chesapeake. Sue Crutchlow Mosteller is living in Decatur, Ga. Joann Kleimecke Laing and her army career husband have been in Germany for two years and hope to be home May '67. Judy Harris Stephensen is spending the summer at Fla. State working on a Master's Degree. Pat Southworth Mahler has been busy entertrining her family and keeping track of three-year-old Ken.

We are finally back in Virginia after two years in New England and 6 months in Norfolk. I enjoyed my short stay in Norfolk as I saw a number of Longwood girls. It seems like everyone I heard from is about to be a mother: Hannah White Moore, in Alexandria, Barbara Chaffin Bear, Victoria Malley Grow and Janice McClenney Mahone, who is retiring after teaching for 5 yrs.

Among those still teaching are Carol Barnes Woodruff, the 4th grade; Barbara Moore Stevens who has signed a contract for this coming fall for her sixth year of teaching (which she says makes her feel old); and Linda Payne Scarce who will be teaching at Madison College this fall. Linda and her husband have taken on an unusual "project" furnishing their home in handmade furniture.

Carol Boley Rideout and her husband, now a special agent for the FBI, will be moving to Cincinnati, Ohio this summer along with their new daughter, Catherine. Sue Gosnell Ball and Larry are still out in Kansas, but hope to return to the D. C. area next spring—to stay! Cherry Gorham Partington and Don are now living at Ft. Meade, Md. in their first home. Carolyn Oliver Wilke and her husband, Walt, are in N. J. Carolyn takes care of Jenifer while Walt is at work for Bristol-Myers. Janet Stanley Donica is at home in Winchester while Fred is on the U.S.S. Intrepid defending our country.

Sorry I don't have much more in the way of news—next year may bring something more exciting or what have you. Hope all who returned for our reunion had a wonderful time.

In May Rosemary Henry Thomas, Dotsy Moody Godwin and Sarah Buxton Lineberry met for lunch at the home of Betty Dawson Lee in Roanoke where all are living. Rosemary just moved from Arkansas to Roanoke where she will be for a year while husband Ray serves as USAF advisor to the Vietnamese government in Saigon. Her new son Bill will keep her company. Dotsy's husband, Gene, is finishing his internship and will be leaving for military duty. Sarah and Ben have just bought a new home. Both she and Betty Rice have two-year-old daughters.

Since we did not have a letter last year, there is twice as much news to bring up to date.

Many of our members find themselves in the role of students furthering their degrees. Jane Anthony Crawley, residing in Farmville, has been taking a course in tailoring at Longwood this summer. Jane still continues to enjoy her 2-year-old daughter and has been substituting in nearby schools. SuzAnn Sloop who will be teaching in Nokesville next year has done some graduate work at Madison College. Jean Lowery has been taking courses to further her degree at the U. of New Mexico. Jane Bowling Mays, living and teaching in Churchville next year, has been working on her Master's Degree at Longwood. Attending summer school at the U. of Va. were Niki Fallis '62 and Barbara Moyer. Becoming more knowledgeable and hoping to attain Masters Degrees at the U. of Tenn. next year will be Shelby Lucy Hawthorne and her husband.

Buying homes has become an exciting element in the lives of many '63 families. Diane French Williams and her husband have been remodeling what used to be an old country church in Snowden, Va. Diane teaches the second grade. Sandra Phlegar Weigand has a new home in Lynchburg, and has been working with the Lynchburg Recreation Dept. Elizabeth Jones Prince purchased a new home. Betty will begin work on a Master's Degree in the future at East Carolina College. Cindy Gay Reardon has a new home in Massachusetts. A nearby friend of Cindy's is Lucy Swink Damiani. Lucy had been living near Rutgers U. while her husband completed his Master's Degree. Lucy stated, "Maybe Cindy and I can put Longwood on the map among Smith, Wellesley, and Radcliffe." Good luck, Lucy! Joyce Powell Still is in a new home in Hampton. Martha Warren Mathews recently celebrated her first wedding anniversary in a new home in Charlotte, N. C. Martha was quite surprised not long ago when she became an Episcopalian to find Lani Robinson Brewer confirmed at the same time.

During the past two years, several '63 green and whites have ventured to exciting parts of the U. S. as well as Europe. Pam Bullen Warden with husband and baby daughter was leaving this summer to make a new home in Japan for several years. Pam invites all '63ers to visit her if ever in that Oriental locale. Cissie Griggs, enjoying a vacation in Calif. this summer, has decided to teach there next year. Still living in Norfolk, Kay Nottingham Lee and husband enjoyed a trip to New Orleans. Margaret Vaughan traveled to Europe in the summer of '65. Working for a trip to Europe Sandy Little last year taught seventh grade, a class of underprivileged children during the afternoon, and illiterate adults at night. Weezie Powell spent the summer visiting with friends in Ga. Another one of our classmates who has been south this summer is Carol Gregory. She teaches in Va. Beach. Faye Stone is certainly proving that members of our class can go far—would you believe Nigeria? Working under a program of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board, she will be serving as an elementary teacher.

Two lonely wives have husbands in Viet Nam. Becky Reamy Blickenstaff and Peggy Hughes Johnson are back home in Richmond and Roanoke respectively, anxiously awaiting their husbands' return.

Sympathy is deeply expressed from our class to Rebecca Rountree Webb whose husband lost his life in Viet Nam. Now living with her parents in Newsoms, Becky is teaching in the Southampton School System.

Mary Lou Plunkett Howerton and Shirley Moody Wells both have husbands in graduate school at U. Va. Mary Lou plans to teach in Charlottesville next year. Nancy Hood Fagalde (alias "Hoodsie") is living in S. C. and has two boys and is a secretary with the Allstate Insurance Co.

Shirley Russell Alexander and Sue Wilhelm Nichols reside in Chesapeake. Sue is teaching school there while Shirley is busy as a new mother. Jeanette Thompson Roberts and Clara Mays Baker reside in Hopewell. Clara teaches in Colonial Heights, and Jeanette is now awaiting the birth of her first child. Diane Leavitt Friedland living in Ga. (Atlanta) expects a new family member in early September. Laurice Hamlet is teaching Home Economics at Gretna High School. Carole Buckner Brown is now a North Carolinian, living in Roanoke Rapids for the third year. Her young son and daughter make her days busy ones. Betsy Hurt Carter and Judy Pollard Hawthorne make their homes in Richmond. Betsy is a social worker for the State Welfare Dept. at the Child Care Bureau. Jane Price Paret is in Winchester and the mother of two girls. In nearby Waynesboro Pat Sweeney Slaughter lives with husband and 3-year-old son. Anne Bradley Greene is in her fourth year of teaching at Rustburg High School. Sherrill Hudlow Suiter, the mother of a young son, is living in Syracuse, N. Y. Nell Martin "loves" Lovingsston where she is Home Demonstration Agent for Nelson County. Mary Catherine Todd Shankland, a mother of two girls, lives in Newport News.

Bill Pleasants, our male supporter, has been teaching in Powhatan since '63. Sponsor of the senior class and yearbook, Bill conducts an educational trip to Florida each spring.

Annice Bailey Schuler was recently in Norfolk on a visit from her home in Venezuela. An interesting letter from Harriet Hunt Little told that she and her husband were leaving to teach in a private American school in Florence, Italy. Dudley Brooks Buck is now in Calif. Sandra Freedman has been teaching Junior High School for the past three years but will venture into the realm of "Mature Matildas" next year as she moves to tenth graders. I, too, will move up gradewise from sophomore to senior English remaining at Princess Anne High School in Va. Beach.

So much of your correspondence included more than I have been able to mention due to lack of space. However, please continue to send your letters as well as the greatly needed contributions. Last year, as you remember, our class was not represented in the magazine due to insufficient funds in our class treasury. The support of this newsletter is completely dependent upon you. Those of you wishing to make contributions may make checks payable to me. We still need money for next year's newsletter. Don't let us down! I wish each of you a happy and eventful year.

"Don't let this completely knock you down; just sit down, relax, and enjoy yourself." So came the words of our past Judy board president Miss Obenshain, and so that is exactly what your two class secretaries have done as your entertaining letters have rolled in during the last few months. We have heard from over a hundred of you, and thank you for every word.

Now back to Lois, teacher of physical education, health, and (may prayers be offered) DRIVER TRAINING! After a couple of summers of the latter and a few too many cases of "ran up on the sidewalk and almost hit a woman waiting for a bus," Lois spent a few weeks of her summers vacationing in New England and Canada.

Lyda Royster Adams is living in Winston-Salem, N. C. Cynthia Alcock Rizzo has been teaching fourth grade in Hampton and will receive her Master's degree from Wm. & Mary. Betty Ruth Stimpson Anderson is teaching business at Henrico High School. Working with the FBLA, she saw two other business-teacher classmates at conventions, Kay Orr and Molly Freeman. Betty Ruth and her husband moved into their new house last August. Jo Leslie Andrews received her Master of Arts degree from Longwood. She is teaching first grade at Mountain View Elementary in Roanoke. Donna Arnold is studying for her Master's degree in Spanish at the U. of Wis.

Sandra Foster Birdsong will teach in Suffolk next year. Danette Blundell will teach at the new Woodbridge Junior High, Rippon. She is working on her degree in education at U. Va. extension. Paula Kirby Blundell is teaching home economics at Rahway High School in N. J. while Frank is studying at Rutgers.

Susan Boatwright was elected president of the Metropolitan area Alumnae Chapter, and Barbara Muehlman Herr is president of the Philadelphia Chapter. Barbara is teaching at the Lea School, an experimental school for the academically talented child. She is a member of the AAUW and the Sigma Kappa Alumnae. She and her husband travelled by car in Europe and the British Isles last summer.

Gail Jones Brandt is "retiring" to be a homemaker and mother in Charlottesville. Khaki Laing Drunagle also is a full-time mother in Vienna. Dana Brewer, after receiving her Master's Degree, will teach Spanish and history in a Catholic high school in New Orleans. She will visit Puerto Rico in August. Anne Fentress Bright has been tutoring at home, next year she will teach at the new Kempsville High School in Va. Beach. Linda Craddock also is teaching at the Beach as well as Judi Hackney who will return to King's Grant School to teach fifth grade.

Ann Carroll will work with the kindergarten-age children at the Va. School for Deaf and Blind next year. She sponsors the new Forensics Club and co-sponsors the Senior Class. This summer she is working toward her Master's in special education at U. Va. Carolyn Anderson Coleman is teaching second grade at Jamison in Roanoke. She was elected President of the Classroom Teachers of Roanoke City for the coming year. Congratulations! Teaching in Colonial Heights are Carol Combs, Betsy MacCorkle, Linda Everly, Phyllis Matthews, Terrie Swann, and Barbara Hewitt. Carol and Linda are spending eight weeks in Europe this summer "traveling by car and living off the land."

Donna Cornell is working for Reynolds Metals in Richmond. Jean Brown Webber is living in Richmond. Pam Croy is a guidance counselor at Giles High School in Pearisburg. She is working toward her Master's in guidance and psychology at Radford. Diana Delk spent the summer in Europe studying French. According to Cindy Davenport Eberwine, "there's a lot to be said for Southern hospitality." She and her husband are buying a home in Ga. Jeanette Elder is in Ga. working with the Ga. Baptist Music Dept. She is receiving her BCM degree from Southern Seminary and will receive her MCM next year. Linda Nelson Ellington is teaching fifth grade at the Prince Edward Academy in Farmville. Mary Ann Debnam Eure is teaching in Charlottesville while Jack is in law school. Also in Charlottesville while her husband is starting his third year of law is Charlotte McClung Holmes. She is teaching Spanish at Albemarle High School.

Annette Fitzgerald Farley, before changing her career to that of mother, taught at the Army Education Center at Ft. Lee. Stuart King Flowers will receive her B.S. in Business Education from RPI. She and her husband camped and toured along the East Coast in a trailer. Barbara Dorn Fosnacht is leaving Va. Beach for Schenectady, N. Y. with her husband.

Barbara Gibson will teach an experimental geography course at Manchester High School in Chesterfield County. Ginny Gilmore received her Master's from U. of Va. last August. She is employed at Bloomsburg State College in Pa. as an instructor of speech pathology and also works in the clinic. She plans to do graduate work. In connection with her work, she attended a seminar at the U. of Minn. Janet Culpepper Guthrie teaches business subjects at Indian River in Chesapeake. Teaching home economics, also at Indian River, is Eunice Lewis.

Frances Haga was a counselor at a camp for overweight girls in the Catskill Mountains of N. Y. She will teach second grade at Vaughan Elementary in Woodbridge. Linda Paris will be at Woodbridge Senior High and Rowena Yates will be at Lynn Junior High. Rowena planned a trip to New England this summer.

Betty Howard Hutchison was cited as one of the five Longwood graduates for Outstanding Young Women of America and was a guest speaker at Founders Day. In June she and her family will be making their home in Leesburg. Mary Iva Cook Jones is teaching at the John Randolph Tucker High School in Richmond. She and her husband have bought a home. Carolyn Jamison Lewis and her husband are living outside Los Angeles. Sarah Coles McBrayer will teach in Chestertfield while Reuben gets through med school. She worked with the Richmond City Head Start Program this summer.

Joy Smith McCool and Carolyn Houser Reid became mothers of baby boys the same day, March 31. Carolyn will teach at Walnut Hill Elementary next year.

Pat Gallahan McGhee is living in Boston. Janet Lacy Martin teaches fourth grade at Stonewall Elementary in Clearbrook. They are moving into a new house. Eleanor Richardson Morris '65, does substitute teaching while Dick is working on his Master's at Harvard. They both hope to get their pilot's license when he takes a job with Aero Commander, a firm which makes small airplanes.

Sandra Cowan Pemberton teaches home economics at Brentsville District High School in Manassas. Nancy Dobyns Pettengill is living in Key West, Fla. Carol Benton Robinson is teaching at Norview High School in Norfolk and working on her Master's in guidance and counseling at Old Dominion. Joyce Lake Robinson has third grade in Frederick County. Bobbie Cadow Rutherford has a new home and is busy gardening and fixing up the house.

Jean Cralle Sisson teaches second grade in Essex County. She and her husband are building a new home at Callao. She is going to summer school to take art. Linda Sue Coffey Smith's husband has been assigned to Viet Nam. She will remain in Richmond teaching fourth grade at Bethlehem Elementary. Sue Spellman will teach in York County. Ann Stokes Hilburn's husband is in the Navy in school and they are living in Monterey, Calif.

Jean Cox Vandergrift teaches at Lee Junior High in Roanoke. Janet Wright Watkins is a busy mother. Her husband is the coach at Colonial Heights High School. Lucy Eanes Williams is teaching fifth grade at G. L. H. Johnson School in Danville. Judy Woodham is teaching in Glen Burnie, Md.

The Georgia and Tennessee Sailing Championships were won last year by Anna White Graves and her husband who have already made another good record this year. She is girl Friday to the Secretary of Ga. International Life Insurance Co.

Pat Pinkston Woolum and Charlie have moved into a new home in Newport News to make room for their growing family, and Pat has retired from the teaching profession. After her marriage in June, Judy Partree Stone and Ken will leave for La Crosse, Wis. while Ken takes a training course with the Trane Air-conditioning as a sales engineer. Judy has taught remedial reading and has participated in Educational Television this year in Norfolk. Toni Raymond Gardy and Jeff will move to Suffolk when Jeff joins the law firm of Godwin, Glasscock and Kelly. Toni is teaching fifth grade in Suffolk. Janet Wright Watkins sent a picture of Wendy who looks just like her mom. Two little girls and a husband now working on his Master's degree keep Mary Anna Burger Womeldorf busy in her home in Blacksburg.

Gay Taylor Wolford and her husband Bill will be teaching physical education at Robert E. Lee in Danville where Bill will coach football and basketball. Ginny Summers and her mother have both received their Master of Education degrees from the U. of Va. Another member of our class, Betty Ann Rex, spent the summer in Charlottesville nursing a broken ankle. Joyce Waldburger Greenwell did the choreography for the spring musical at the school where she also sponsored the school yearbook. She is now working for a Master's of Humanities degree at the U. of Richmond.

Judy Woodyard Felty has been teaching art at a junior high, and her husband is a public school band director. They spent the summer at Northwestern and then visited Melanie Wilkes Bryd in Cincinnati. Melanie teaches in a large school there.

Sally Barclay Rhodes and the non-touring half of your class secretaries enjoyed a rather lazy summer doing mostly nothing! Sally will teach first grade again in the fall. Joan Baldwin Elliott, her husband Bud and little girl Kelly live in Arlington where he is a field underwriter of New York Life Insurance Company. Lewan Rippey finished her work for a Master's degree from the U. of Del. in the summer and spent some time touring Canada. She's a sixth grade teacher in Newark. Margie Twilley McDonald has returned from two years in N. J. to teach in Portsmouth until her husband, Pete, returns from a year in Thailand.

Pat Salle is working on her pilot's license and teaching French at Huguenot High in Richmond. She was an alternate in the NDEA French Institute at the U. of Alaska. Peggy Thorpe Vaughan and Kelly are also taking flying lessons, teaching and seeing the USA. Sue Moseley Whorton will tour Wis. with her graduate school husband Jim after spending a very cool winter in that state. Diane Turner and Sandra Burnette visited Carole Lee Baumgardner in Puerto Rico last summer.

Joan Pritchett Pirkle spent the summer with Jimmy in N. C. while he performed with the summer theatre of East Carolina College. They will return to Newport News in the fall where Joan will teach 3rd grade and Jimmy will teach speech and drama at Ferguson High School. Terrie Swann is working on a Master's Degree in Guidance at Wm. & Mary. Anne Lawrence Elmes and David will remain in Charlottesville until he receives his Ph.D. in psychology.

Carol Narney Harkleroad is at MCV as a private secretary in the School of Medicine after completing a year of teaching in Newport News. Carolyn Munt Thacker and Jimmy have had visits from Donna Arnold and Margie Twilley McDonald. Mary Ellen Barnes Wood worked at Mary Washington College during the year. She and Doug have returned to Harrisonburg where he is on the news staff for WSA-TV. A large old home in Portland, Ore. and a growing family keep Nan Hovey-King Morris busy. She and family enjoy camping trips in the Pacific Northwest.

Marie Murphy Garrett is back at Longwood working on her Master of Education Degree. Carolyn Wall Crowder has settled down to the joys of housekeeping and expectant motherhood. Susan Sheeley Ward continues her teaching in Lexington where Jeff is in Law School at W. & L.

Barbara Ramsey Stuart teaches Home Economics in a brand new department in Gloucester High School. Wanda Robertson is proud of her award-winning art students at Cox High School in Virginia Beach. She also taught retarded children and worked in a camp during the summer. Betty Jean Russell McMurrin and husband Dennis are renovating their newly acquired old Portsmouth home. Betty Jean will teach at Woodrow Wilson High while Dennis continues his work at a law firm of which he is a partner.

Mary Kay Orr is working on her MS degree at Madison College and teaching business education in Stafford County. Evelyn Smith is teaching in Danville. She took several courses at Longwood last summer. Pat Soret Smith plans to finish her student teaching in Library Science at Old Dominion College in Norfolk. She and her husband visited the World Fair during its closing days in New York. Joan Voliva Kerns will be teaching World History.

Beverly Pruitt Bayliss taught in Dumfries last summer in the Head Start program. Elizabeth L. Smith Barker has given up teaching for a more domestic job: that of decorating her new home in Leland, Miss. She visited Va. during the summer. Joan Perry Brock and daughter, Kathryn, will live in Norfolk this year while Macon is in Viet Nam.

Virginia V. Sturm will be in graduate school working on a degree in French at the U. of Ky. Jackie Forrest Taylor '66 worked in Dr. Newman's office after graduation.

A sixth grade class filled with 33 "active" boys who taught her all about gasoline motors and Batman filled the days of Evelyn Gray Harris last year. (P. S. I have a new baby sister, Catherine. She was a real surprise and a joy to the Gray and Harris families.)

May your year be the best!

The Class of '66 finds itself scattered in all parts of Virginia, and in the different states, including Alaska.

The teaching profession has attracted over half of our class. To Northern Virginia go Elizabeth Shelhorse, Mary Kay Richeson, Helena Hall Corfield and Mary Ann Hanken who are teaching in Alexandria. Nearby Ann Barbour Waldo is teaching in Arlington County. Fairfax County has attracted Frances Stewart, Beverly Cuthriell, Karen Engdahl, Judy Cundiff, and Nancy Harriman Young. Then in Loudoun County we have Linda Bassford Christie. Rose Mary Stone is in Manassas, while Anita Holmes Outlaw has chosen Vienna. In Springfield we find Carol "Bird" Peyser. Judy Frost chose King William County while Norma Davis chose Woodbridge.

Around the Richmond Area we find Dorothy Daille Pritchard, Jenny Turner and Mary Lee Shoulders who teach in Chesterfield County. In Henrico County are Carole Cleary White, Temple Kester Joyner, Mary Evelyn Allen, Connie Parkins, and Doris Holland Bailey. Also in Henrico are Pat Avakian, Mary Jo Wright, Jackie Leath Blencowe, Theresa Albright, Elizabeth Spicer, Lynn Smith, and Jenny McCoy. To Richmond City go Arden Lockett, Karen Diedrich Witthoefft, Mary Copenhaver, Susan Marsh, Sally Jarman, Caress Hazelrigs Bryan, and Virginia Beard.

To the Petersburg area we sent Mamie Harrell Sink and Gloria Joyner teaching in Prince George County. Ann Coleman is teaching for the City of Petersburg. Hopewell has attracted Betsy Taylor, Louise Mann, and Ann King; while Colonial Heights has attracted Barbara Ragland, and Ruth Ann Baxter. Fort Lee has Sandy Kilbourne and Carroll Seay.

Tidewater Virginia again gets a large portion of the graduating class. Chesapeake gains Phyllis Boykin, Judy Rice Willoughby, Judy Hester, and Pat Gillette. Also Carole Gibson, Sandra Rhodes, Noel Byrd, Faye Carter, Helen Weeks and Olivia Gibson (that's us) have chosen Chesapeake. Those teaching in Hampton include Jayne Eddy, Nevis Born, Mary Gompf, Nancy Walters, Nan Tyler, and Bess Mann. Also in Hampton are Judy Yarroll, Suzanne Turnbull Hope, Becky Sheppard, and Mary Ann Thomas. Newport News received Karen Ruder, Sue Ball, Fran Heath, Bonnie Abbitt, Carolyn "Rusty" Stephenson, and Marlene Armour. Carol Robertson Campbell teaches in Norfolk. York County has Marianna Wyatt and Norma Johnson as teachers. Betty Garner Jenkins teaches in Williamsburg. Virginia Beach gained Gerry Edwards, Rosemary Rudy, Betsy McAllister, Ann Chappell, Cheryl Scruggs, Harriet Anderson, and Susan Lawlor. In Nansemond County we have Linda Nelms, while Portsmouth gained Carolyn Hammer.

To the western part of Virginia went Linda Bosserman Robinson who teaches in Rockbridge County. Roanoke has Donna Haynes, Linda Overbey, Faye Baldwin, Billie Sue Board, and Joy Cronise Aird as teachers. The City of Danville has attracted Ann Bryant, Judy Gauldin, and Brenda Donavant. Bette Evans Wood teaches in Charlottesville, Campbell County has Julia Lookabill and Bedford County has Michelle Abbott. Betty Lee Neal is teaching in Chatham.

In Southside Virginia we have Peggy Gay Elliott, Sybil Ellett Kesterson, Ann Orndorff Cerillo, Della Anderson, Pat Dugger and Linda Hoffman who are teaching in Lynchburg. Aletha Starke Armistead is teaching at Appomattox while Bonnie Baker Meinhard is at Buckingham County.

In other parts of Virginia we find Margaret Paradee, Jan Durnier, Carey Howell, Pat Drokes and Alice Coates who are teaching in Stafford County. Ann Kleese may be found in Winchester. Northumberland County received Sally Grayson Chinn. Wilma Register Sharp went to Orange County. Beverley Goode Wooldridge chose Nelson County and Carolyn Cole Elliot chose Halifax County. June Wilberger Edwards is at Linville. In Gloucester County we have Dallas deKrafft. Rachel Golding Gentry is teaching in Galax and Beverly Roark is teaching in Culpeper. Jane Brown may be found in Botetourt County. Pat Borkey is instructing at Longwood.

Teaching in other states has attracted some of our class also. Phyllis Collins is in Calexico, California, and Betty Jo Flora Ward is in Orlando, Florida. On the East Coast we have Helen Grigsby in Newark, Delaware, Sandra Coder Schaffner in Suitland, Maryland, Lou Johnson in Pocomoke City, Maryland, Martha Arthur Whittemore in Raleigh, N. C. and Sally Daughtry in Anderson, S. C. Fran Lipford found her teaching position in Panama.

Some of our class have decided to further their education. Carolyn Mohler is at William and Mary, while Sally Pottage is studying in Syracuse, New York. The University of Virginia attracted Glenda Booth, Sally Fulton, Ellen Locker, and Woody Ligon. Paige Mitchell, Doris Jenkins, and Anne Ferrell Smith Hatfield are at the Medical College of Virginia. Roy Leslie Miller is at Union Theological Seminary.

Other professions besides teaching have gained the interests of some of our classmates. Arlene Getchell is now a free-lance short story writer. (She has already sold her first story.) Phyllis Lasley is now in Alaska working as a VISTA Volunteer. Audrey Jarrelle is a graduate assistant at UNC. Our "working" girls include Penny Good Wilson, Jackie Andrews Robinson, Jeanie Hamon, Pat Meekins Harrington, and Bobbi Allen.

Nena Lochbridge Sexton '13, husband John, and grandson William Sexton Wills.

Julia Braga Shinner '47, with her sons Michael, Patrick and Anthony.

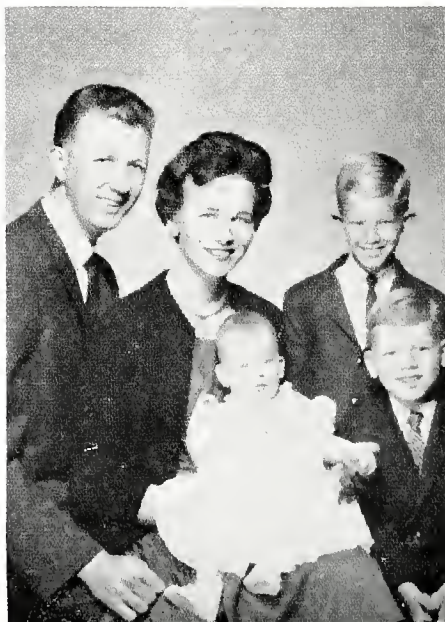

J. B. Hurt, son of Maria Addleman Hurt '47.

Stephanie and Scott, children of Phyllis Powell Swertfeger '55.

Michael Glenn, 18 months, son of Carol Benton Robinson '64.

Bob and Helen Waitman Wheeler '55, and David, 8½, Danny, 5½, and Donna 4 months.

Cathy Williams, 3, daughter of Jeanette Puckett Williams '57.

Christopher Quinn, 4½, son of Bootsie Miller Quinn '56, grandson of Margaret Lester Miller '31 & '55, and nephew of Marilyn Miller Oates '63.

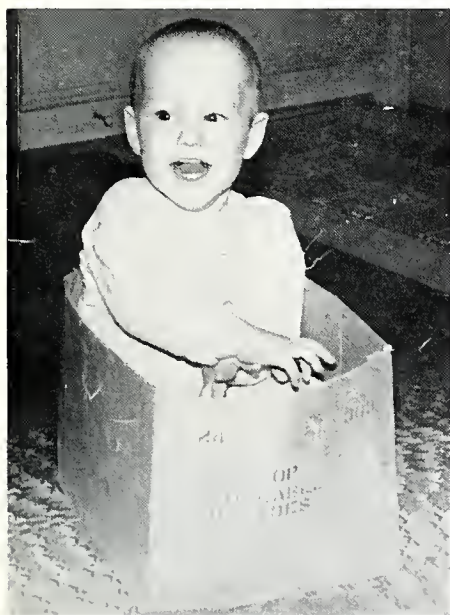

Lisa Michelle Grimstead, 6 months, daughter of "Peanuts" Winder Grimstead.

Monique, 17 months, daughter of Nancy Drudge Fawcett '58.

Faye Stone '63.

George Craig Hood, II, 15 months, son of Elsie Dick Hood '59.

Jenifer Bradford Wilke, 2, daughter of Carolyn Oliver Wilke '61.

Phyllis Lasley '66 will spend one year working with the Eskimos of Koyuk, Alaska.

In Europe:

The Longwood College Alumnae European Tour from July 25—August 15 was really a happy one which offered something special to each of the sixteen tour members. Of course, there were the marvels of sightseeing in cities old and new—in gay Paree, in old Madrid and Toledo, in revered Rome, in peaceful Lucerne, and in historic Munich as well as in canaled Amsterdam, Shakespearean Stratford, the spired city of Oxford, the one-time capital of the World—London—and in medieval Ireland. Not all was city sightseeing, for we rode through the beautiful countryside in the Swiss and Bavarian Alps, in the tulip and other gardens of Holland, in the hills of Old England and in the flat land around Shannon, Ireland. The nature lovers and camera fans delighted in visits in such gardens as Tivoli in Rome, the Shakespearean gardens in Stratford, and in visits to beautiful castles and palaces. Not to be forgotten by music and art devotees were the spectacular presentation of Aida in the open-air theatre at the Baths of Caracalla and the hours spent in such famous museums as La Louvre, El Prado, the Deutsches Museum, and the Rijksmuseum with its famous Rembrandt collection. The most awe-inspiring of course was Michael Angelo's work in the Sistine Chapel of the Vatican. Would that we might have seen The Passion Play while we were in the theatre at Oberammergau.

We had boat riding on the Seine, on Lake Lucerne, on the canals at Amsterdam, and on the deep blue Mediterranean from Naples to the Isle of Capri. Mountain climbing was confined to cable-car riding up Mount Pilatus. Of course, there were exotic foreign meals and drinks, with a taste of night-club life at Moulin Rouge. Always there was shopping and more shopping with a finale at the antique center at Portobello in London and in the duty-free shop at Shannon Airport. The medieval tour and typical medieval dinner at Bunratty Castle, Ireland, sent the group gaily home. Indeed, there was something thrilling for everyone. Memories and new friendships have whetted our appetites for a return tour soon. So—be a member next summer of the Longwood College Alumnae Tour.
